ATTLEE SEEKS UNITED FRONT DURING CRISIS

Conservatives Meet Appeal With Shouts Demanding Leader to Resign.

LONDON —(UP)— Prime Minister Clement Attlee told the house of commons today that Britain's fuel crisis is so grave the emergency can be met only by the cooperation of all parties.

Attlee's appeal came as British industry faltered under the staggering impact of an unprecedented power shutoff and the government desperately sought for emergency measures to meet the economic crisis.

To Attlee's appeal for conservative cooperation, opposition members of parliament shouted: "Resign, resign."

He said the government was aware of the serious losses being inflicted on Britain by the power shutoff but "it is an action which is essential at the present time."

Chronic Problem.

Attlee told commons that actually Britain was suffering from a chronic fuel problem rather than an isolated crisis arising due to the severe winter weather.

However, he added, had it not been for the unusually severe weather Britain should have been able to get through this winter without a crisis due to measures that had been taken to increase coal production and improve transportation.

Commons prepared to battle out the issue in one of its most momentous sessions since the war.

Will Talk to People.

Attlee announced that he would talk to the people by radio tonight. In an emergency measure harking back to wartime messages of transcendent urgency, Attlee was expected to ask the support of the people in the crisis.

(For further particulars concerning the British fuel crisis, see story on page five.)

JEWELS STOLEN, CLAIMS DURANT

WASHINGTON —(INS)— A new sensation in the Hesse jewel theft developed today when it was revealed that Col. Jack W. Durant, accused of stealing the royal gems, contends that a shoebox containing a considerable part of the fortune was stolen from him.

A military court spokesman disclosed that this new angle in the case would be aired in Durant's court martial trial, scheduled for resumption today in the war department.

The colonel's WAC captain wife and an army major already have been convicted of participation in the weird theft from the old Kronberg castle in Germany.

Officials of the provost marshal general's office were said to have been told by Durant last summer in Chicago that he was unable to turn over to them a shoebox-full of the larger stones because his baggage had been stolen.

The spokesman said that these valuables still are being sought by the army. He declined to estimate the value, indicating, however, that the jewels comprise a considerable part of the one million, 500 thousand dollar treasure.

POLICEMEN BATTLE CRIME IN HARLEM

NEW YORK — (UP) — Flying squads of policemen swooped down on Harlem poolrooms, bars and "crime clubs" today in a roundup of hoodlums who have terrorized residential sections with rented guns.

The first raid netted two men charged with hiring out pistols at $5 a night and sawed off shotguns and rifles for $25 each.

The raids uncovered a private pistol range provided by an apartment house superintendent for the hoodlums and resulted in the arrest of 18 youths, all in their 20's, who faced charges ranging from murder, rape and robbery to assault vagrancy and violation of the Sullivan law.

Land Plane Ready For Ocean Flight

FAIRFIELD, Calif. — (INS) — A twin-engined P-82 was poised at the Fairfield-Suisun army airfield for a takeoff today for Honolulu in the longest overwater flight ever attempted by a land fighter plane.

The plane is being flown to Honolulu by Lieut. Col. Robert E. Thacker of El Centra, Calif. Thacker plans a non-stop flight from Hickam field in Hawaii to New York, longest ever attempted by a fighter plane.

Defeated Italy Submits Sadly To Peace Treaty

PARIS—(AP)—Italy signed sadly and silently today a peace treaty reducing her to a third rate power, stripped of colonies, indebted by reparations, her homeland reduced and her army and navy cut to a relative shadow.

Yugoslavia, which will obtain a slice of the coveted Venezia Giulia but not the port of Trieste which will become a free city, reversed herself and signed the treaty after protesting the boundary agreement.

Italy, paying for the crimes of Mussolini and fascism, was the first of five Axis nations to sign treaties which, when ratified, will end World War II for all the world except Germany, Japan, Austria and Korea.

Following Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland inked treaties with up to 20 Allied nations. The United States had a part in all the accords except that of Finland, with which the United States never was at war.

Italy observed a ten-minute period of silence at the 11 a. m. (5 a. m. EST) hour of the signing of her treaty, which the Italian constituent assembly and the major Allied powers still must ratify.

Slavs Disturbed.

The Yugoslav foreign minister, Stanoje Simic, declared Premier Tito's Russian-backed government was "roundly disturbed" at the treaty with Italy.

His statement said Yugoslavia "declares with regret" that the "demands and proposals" of Yugoslavia "have not been taken into consideration in a satisfying manner" in the political, military and economic clauses of the treaty.

Italy lost Eritrea, Somaliland and Libya, her Italian colonies, and was forced to recognize the independence of Ethiopia and Albania. The Dodecanese islands went to Greece. Small areas on her western frontier went to France.

She was ordered to pay $360,000,000 in reparations.

ROME —(UP)— Rioting Italians protesting the signing of the Italian peace treaty today smashed into the Yugoslav military mission building and unfurled the Italian flag from a balcony.

The incident followed by a few minutes disturbances in Piazza Venezia where 25,000 Italians gathered to give vent to "national mourning" ripped an American flag to shreds.

Students shouting nationalistic slogans battered down the iron gate of the Yugoslav building, broke down several doors and surged upstairs to the balcony.

IN ENGLAND TOO—Workmen dig out a passenger train stuck in the snow all night between Manchester and Buxton, England. The bitter weather resulted in an order cutting off electricity from many British industries.

PORTAL CASE GOING HIGHER

Labor Attorneys Prepare To Carry Decision to U. S. Supreme Court.

DETROIT—(AP)—With the blessings of Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, the multi-billion dollar portal pay dispute appeared destined today to return to congress and the supreme court for final settlement.

Labor attorneys planned to carry Judge Picard's decision dismissing the Mt Clemens Pottery Co. case to the nation's highest court and maintained it would have little or no bearing on hundreds of other portal suits on file in other districts.

Spokesmen for American industry, from which some $4,800,000,000 is sought in portal claims, generally commended the ruling. Many felt, however, that revision of the fair labor standards (wage-hour) act still was "urgent."

Judge Picard said he wanted to "set straight" some persons who had "misinterpreted" what he termed the "meat" of his ruling.

This concerned his interpretation of th "De Minimis" doctrine.

Judge Explains.

The judge emphasized he did not rule that any time spent walking or in other work preliminaries up to "20 or 25 minutes" was "De Minimis" or too trifling to be compensable.

Previous to his decision, he said, the supreme court and the wage-hour administration always had ruled such time "De Minimis." In the Mt. Clemens case, he added, the walking time going to work—the only "portal" time recognized by the supreme court—was never more than eight minutes.

It was on this basis that several labor leaders criticized the decision, he said, adding that most of the comment he has received by telephone and telegram on his ruling has been favorable.

POLICE CHECK DEATH

TOLEDO—(AP)—An autopsy was scheduled today to determine whether Joseph Daniel Nowak, 47, Toledo, was frozen to death or died from injuries about the head. His body was found near a little-used trail in City park. Cuts about the face indicated he had been beaten.

'WAIT ON IKE,' ASKS ANDREWS

House Military Head Flashes 'Go Slow' Warning on Defense Budget Cut.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Without taking sides in the widening Republican fight over tax cutting, Chairman Andrews (N.Y.) of the house armed services committee flashed a "go slow" signal today to his economy bent GOP colleagues.

Andrews urged specifically the senate-house budget committee hold off any possible slash in national defense funds until it hears directly from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff.

Taking note of reports that Republican members of the joint congressional group are considering a $2,000,000,000 reduction in President Truman's $11,200,000,000 army-navy allotment, Andrews told newsmen:

"I am against any such flat out. So I am suggesting that the budgetary committee consult General Ike."

The budget committee's report is due Saturday.

Sharp Slash Planned.

The armed services' cut was listed tentatively last week as the biggest single item in a GOP program aimed at trimming Mr. Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget to $32,000,000,000.

That program is tied directly with Republican promises to trim income taxes while still whittling at the natonal debt.

The GOP tax cutting drive bumped into powerful opposition from an unexpected quarter over the weekend when Senator Taft, (Ohio), chairman of the senate GOP policy committee, announced he would oppose any reduction before July 1.

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.), of the tax-writing house ways and means committee has been insistent on a 20 per cent "across the board" slash, retroactive to January 1. His committee has scheduled hearings on his bill to accomplish that February 19, and Knutson declared that Taft's views "won't make a particle of difference."

NEW ICE BREAKER JOINS ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION

By LEE VANATTA
(Representing Combined American Press)

ABOARD THE ICE BREAKER NORTHWIND—(INS)—Added insurance for the fourth Byrd Antarctic expedition arrived early today.

It came in the shape of the navy's brand new ice breaker, the U.S.S. Burton Island—double precaution to guard both the ships and men of this polar survey force against the massive and unpredictable Ross ice pack.

The rendezvous took place at the southern tip of the Ross pack amid seas cluttered with chunks of bergs and rotten ice.

Commander Gerald Ketcham of Bellingham, Wash., brought the Burton Island through the pack in just over three days. Immediately upon arrival his vessel hove to and Ketcham boarded the Northwind for a conference with Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen, force commander.

The two officers discussed the means by which the bulk of the Byrd force will undertake its second meeting with the formidable Ross barrier.

Ketcham reported that the pack extended about 240 miles northwards and after the first 24 hours' sailing became solid and difficult to penetrate.

Mansfielder's Samaritan Act Proves Costly

Howard Cook, 133 West Raleigh avenue, today knows it sometimes can be costly to befriend a hitchhiker.

Cook told police yesterday a $100 gold wrist watch and $25 in cash were stolen from his room Saturday night, shortly before an unidentified hitchhiker he had picked up in Athens walked out of the house and failed to return.

Cook said he brought the youth, whom he described as about 25 years old, to Mansfield When the man said he had no place to stay here, Cook said he offered to let him stay overnight in his room.

The man, who said he was from Portsmouth, was seen leaving the house about 10:30 p. m. Saturday. Cook discovered the loss of his watch and money shortly afterwards.

THRONGS CROWD EDISON'S HOME

MILAN —(AP)— This village's observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of its most famous native son, Thomas Alva Edison, today entered its second day with a general reunion of Milan inhabitants.

Resurrected heirlooms and ancient costumes dotted Milan's store windows and streets as residents hailed the approaching anniversary tomorrow of the birth of famed inventor, born in a red-brick cottage here Feb. 11, 1847.

Hundreds of visitors were expected to view the humble cottage and its gnarled cherry tree, where Edison built a playhouse overlooking a busy canal during the seven years of his life which were spent at Milan.

The Erie county federation of woman's clubs scheduled a reception this afternoon for Edison's only daughter, Mrs. John S. Sloan, who tomorrow will receive the first sheet of the inaugural issue of Edison Memorial stamps.

At church services yesterday opening the three-day observance, favorite hymns and ballads of the inventive genius were sung by an Edison Memorial Methodist church choir.

THREE DAUGHTERS PERISH IN BLAZE

ELYRIA—(AP)—Three youthful daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian L. Read perished early today when fire destroyed their two-story frame house just east of here.

Read, 38-year-old employe of the Elyria Foundry company, saved their three other children by dropping them from a second story window to his wife, Ruth, below.

Swiftly enveloping flames prevented him from reaching the other three in their room, however.

The dead: Clarabelle, 15, June, 9, and Laverne, 7.

Baby Near Death After Dad's Slap

MILWAUKEE —(INS)— A six-month-old baby boy lay near death today in a Milwaukee hospital after a severe beating by his war-veteran father.

Predzik told officers he slapped his infant son because the baby refused to drink a bottle of milk.

FARES GO UP

LONDON — (INS) — Londoners were paying two cents more for trolley, bus and subway rides today as the result of a fare boost announced by the city transport board.

GOP Rivals Face Split on Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The possibility that Senator Bricker would narrow the field of Republican presidential possibilities this week focused fresh attention today on widening policy differences between Senators Taft and Vanderberg.

Friends of the former Ohio governor said Bricker may announce in Columbus Thursday that he thinks Taft should be the state's favorite son choice in 1948.

They added if the announcement is not forthcoming then, when both senators will confer with Ohio party leaders, it will be made later.

The tacit understanding that Bricker is eliminating himself from preliminary consideration for the nomination leaves only Taft and Vandenberg in the senate as first rank 1948 possibilities.

Vandenberg told a Grand Rapids news conference in advance of his speech to the Michigan state Republican convention Saturday that he is not a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, doesn't expect to be and has no wish to be. He added, however, that a man would be "entirely numb if he were insensible to the compliment the suggestion implies."

Politicians generally regarded this as a cautious statement which did not take the Michigan senator out of the race. Taft has said only that he is not an "active" candidate for the nomination.

Opinions Differ.

There is evidence that the two men, who actually dominate Republican activities in the senate, are diverging over the issue of international economic cooperation.

The Ohio and Michigan senators also are likely to come to a parting of the ways on how much aid should be extended to foreign countries.

The Ohio senator is outspoken on international economic matters. And there is little doubt that he will be unwilling to go as far as Vandenberg in extending relief and other financial help to other nations.

'Oscar' Aspirants Toe Marks In Annual Race

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The entry list for the annual race to filmdom's highest peak, the "Oscar derby," was complete today—it's 10 nominees for leading actor and actress awards including three former winners. The nominees:

Best actor—Frederic March, "The Best Years of Our Lives"; Laurence Oliver, "Henry V"; Larry Parks, "The Jolson Story"; Gregory Peck, "The Yearling", and James Stewart, "It's a Wonderful Life."

Best actress—Olivia De Havilland, "To Each His Own"; Celia Johnson, "Brief Encounter"; Jennifer Jones, "Duel In the Sun"; Rosalind Russell, "Sister Kenny," and Jane Wyman, "The Yearling."

Best picture—"The Best Years of Our Lives," "Henry V," "It's a Wonderful Life," "The Razor's Edge" and "The Yearling."

Surprises Develop.

Major surprises were the failure of the much-discussed "Duel In the Sun," probably the year's costliest production, to make the list and the inclusion of the comparatively little-known Britisher, Miss Johnson, among the candidates. A mild surprise was the naming of Olivier and "Henry V," likewise English.

Previous winners among the nominees include March, for "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" (1932); Stewart for "The Philadelphia Story" (1940); and Miss Jones for "The Song of Bernadette" (1943)

The nominators selected 65 candidates in 18 classifications, including also:

Best director — William Wyler, "The Best Years of Our Lives"; David Lean, "Brief Encounter"; Frank Capra, "It's a Wonderful Life"; Robert Siodmak, "The Killers"; and Clarence Brown, "The Yearling."

Best supporting actor—Charles Coburn, "The Green Years"; William Demarest, "The Jolson Story"; Claude Rains, "Notorious"; Harold Russell, "The Best Years of Our Lives" and Clifton Webb, "The Razor's Edge."

Best supporting actress—Ethel Barrymore, "The Spiral Staircase"; Anne Baxter, "The Razor's Edge"; Lillian Gish, "Duel In the Sun"; Flora Robson, "Saratoga Trunk" and Gale Sondergaard, "Anna and the King of Siam."

COMMANDER ASSASSINATED

ROME —(UP)— The commander of the British 13th infantry brigade was assassinated at Pola today while he was inspecting troops, it was reported authoritatively. The reported assassination was attributed to an unidentified woman.

TODAY LAST DAY TO PAY ASH FEE

Today is the last day for payment of the new garbage-ash-trash service fee.

Secretary Fred E. Lingafelter said "a lot" of Mansfielders had failed so far to make their payments. Under a newly-effective ordinance, collection service must be paid for at the rate of $7.20 a year for garbage and $6 a year for ash-trash.

The fee may be paid in semi-annual installments. Householders not in need of ash collection may subscribe for trash service at $3 a year.

Lingafelter said a "stop service" list will be prepared in "three or four" days.

He added that he could not yet tell how many subscribers were delinquent.

Some 6,800 bills for the various services have been mailed.

RAT KILLS BABY

CINCINNATI — (INS) — A six-week-old baby, Beverly Elaine Baker, died in Cincinnati Children's hospital yesterday after being attacked by a rat at her parents' suburban Crescentville home.

Buses Halted By Big Drifts On Rural Roads

Highway Crews Work To Open Routes As New Cold Wave Heads Toward Ohio; 4,600 Pupils Get Holiday.

More than 4,600 Richland county school children remained at home today as snowdrifts as much as six feet high blocked rural roads and kept school buses from operating. Schools were closed in every county district except Plymouth.

Mansfield and Shelby schools were open, but attendance dropped as pupils from outlying districts were unable to get through the drifts. County school officials said they hoped to resume classes Tuesday unless more snow falls or roads again are blocked by snow already on the ground.

The fluffy snow, whipped into huge drifts by high winds, closed a number of county and township roads and sections of State Routes 97 and 545 in southern Richland county.

State, county, and city maintenance crews pressed all available equipment into service to open roads and streets to traffic. In some areas, the drifts piled up almost as fast as the workmen cleared the roads.

More Cold In Sight.

Although temperatures moderated by noon and winds abated, Ohioans were warned to dig in against another cold wave reported heading this way from Canada. The mercury stod at 16 above at noon. Last night's low was 12 above, as reported by the Longview avenue substation of the Ohio Public Service company.

Last night's blizzard forced the natural gas supply to a new low, G. K. Schooler, Mansfield district manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas company, said. He added there was no change in curtailment of the fuel to industries.

Despite the continued cold, however, no additional worker lay-offs were reported today in Mansfield.

Westinghouse Open.

Westinghouse spokesmen said they hoped to keep the plant operating this week unless another severe cold wave hits the city area. Plant spokesmen expressed fear last week that it might be necessary to close some of the departments this week.

State highway garage spokesmen stid that two extra crews were called from Ashland today to help with snow-removal operations on the blocked routes south of Lexington.

Hardest hit county roads were the Little Washington South road and the Possum Run road, south of Mansfield, according to County Engineer Walter E. Rusk. The Little Washington road was blocked yesterday and again toay. Several autos, stalled yesterday on the Possum Run road, were freed by snow plows. Four county plows will remain on the job tonight, Rusk said.

Anxious calls from Mansfielders for city help in cleaning snow from streets and driveways, flooded the city building yesterday and today. Service-safety Director E. L. Morgan said that crews have been working since Friday.

Morgan said the George L. Rogers truck agency here loaned the city a jeep-powered plow to be used in downtown sections to keep intersections free of snow.

Street Supt C. H. Hebel said that the Woodland section was the hardest hit. Streets there were being cleared this morning. He complained about motorists parking their cars in front of plows.

Two plows are now in operation on the city force and a grader, which developed engine trouble yesterday, is expected to be back in operation today.

FAIR JOB ABOLISHED

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The position of junior state manager was listed as abolished today by agriculture director Frank Farnsworth. The action followed refusal of Bryan P. Sandles to relinquish the post he had held for 15 years. Sandles, a civil service appointee, had been asked to resign by Farnsworth.

CHIEF WARNS OF FIRE THREAT

Snow-Blocked Roads Create Hazards in Suburban Areas, Steele Says.

Because some roads in the Mansfield suburban area are blocked by snow, Fire Chief L. J. Steele today warned Madison township residents to be especially "fire conscious."

He said snow may prevent fire apparatus from reaching homes in some parts of the township.

The chief strongly urged residents "not to attempt to kindle fires with kerosene or gasoline."

Despite the severe cold, only four fires, most of them minor, were reported in the city over the weekend.

A 1937 model automobile was almost destroyed yesterday when it caught fire at the intersection of Cline and Lexington avenues about 4 p. m. The vehicle was owned by Earl Grove, of Ashland. Cause of the fire was unknown.

The fire department was called to the home of Robert May, Mansfield, R. D. 6, early today when lint in heating pipes burst into flames. Minor damage was listed.

Firemen answered two other calls yesterday, but only slight damage was reported. At 2 p. m., an overheated hot water tank caused minor damage at the Empire Steel corporation plant, and at 11 a. m., a defective chimney brought firemen to the home of Robert Charles, 99½ Marion avenue.

FIRE IN DANCE HALL KILLS 81

BERLIN—(AP)—Rescuers, working in near zero temperatures, today had recovered 81 bodies from the ruins of the Karlslust dance hall, razed by fire at the height of a Saturday night costume ball. Another 39 persons were in hospitals.

Capt. Frank Walten, British fire chief, said he did not expect the death toll to climb much higher.

A check of British rosters showed seven soldiers missing, the British provost marshal's office said.

Various causes were advanced for the holocaust.

A British fire control officer blamed overheated stoves, while a German civilian said a short circuit caused the fire.

MOTHER TURNS GUN ON TWO GIRLS, SELF

GIRARD—(AP)—Trumbull county Sheriff Ralph Millikin today sought a motive for the slaying of the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Heston, who was found in the bedroom of the Heston home early yesterday with a rifle bullet in her chest.

Sheriff Millikin said the mother, Mrs. Markaret Heston, 35, had confessed she shot her two-year-old, Theresa, another daughter, Margaret Mary, 3, and then turned a .22 caliber rifle on herself.

Mrs. Heston was in critical condition. Margaret Mary was reported in fair condition. The sheriff said he was unable to question Mrs. Heston.

Rubber Unions Plan Strike Vote

AKRON — (AP) — Membership meetings and strike votes within a week are planned by unions in the three major rubber concerns here, spokesmen for the CIO-United Rubber Workers reported today.

The strike votes are an aftermath of a break-off last week in negotiations with the "Big Four" rubber companies for a 26 cents hourly wage increase.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Supreme court today upheld the "clean politics" section of the Hatch act which forbids federal employes to engage in politics.

FORT DIX, N. J.—(INS)—Capt. William H. Florence, head of the Ft. Dix criminal investigation division, said today that Corp. Joseph Dumais made a new oral statement saying that "he is responsible for the slaying" of the "Black Dahlia" in Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON—(UP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Kenneth Romney, former sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, on charges of defrauding the United States in connection with a $125,563 shortage in accounts of the house bank.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Fresh fruit and vegetable wholesale prices here have advanced 10 to 25 per cent and may go higher as a result of the Florida freeze which caused heavy damage to truck crops, produce men estimated today.

GEORGETOWN, Ky. — (UP) — Fire today destroyed the historic Georgetown Christian church, home of the oldest congregation of the Disciples of Christ in the nation.

FREDERICK L. OTHMAN

He Likes Marshall

WASHINGTON —Secretary of State George C. Marshall is my kind of diplomat. When he talks it doesn't come out peach-fuzz.

I can understand his language and this makes him in my book, a unique statesman.

So many reporters came to his first press conference that he held it in the top-story conference room of the state department, where bronze cupids lurk in the corners, the cornices are gold, and the walls are lined with silver and green-colored marble slabs.

* * *

HE ASKED the reporters, more than 100 of them, to sit down in the undertakers' chairs his assistants had rushed in. He said he'd stand up. Then he did an unprecedented thing. He had some things to say and he said 'em.

The diplomatic press corps, trained these many generations in forcing news from international experts (a process more difficult than squeezing juice from billiard balls), was non-plused.

* * *

MARSHALL used plain English to talk about his hopes for disarmament. He said his helpers at the department look like first class citizens to him and that he didn't intend to fire 'em, or reorganize 'em much, either.

He mentioned Poland and Palestine. He explained about the marines in China, the mandated islands in the Pacific, the relations between Argentina and the United States. He said he had no idea how many displaced Europeans ought to be admitted to America; he said relief ought to continue abroad because it is possible for a man to eat in March and still starve in April, when UNRRA is no more.

* * *

WHEN FINALLY he'd finished his report to the press and the people on America's world-wide problems, he said now he was ready for questions, the reporters laughed.

Marshall said all right, but he couldn't understand what was so funny. The correspondents tried to carry on in the old tradition and ask him some questions, but the secretary had beat 'em to the draw. He'd answered nearly every one beforehand and without prodding.

I don't know how he'll get along with the mumbo-jumbo boys in some of the chancellories. But as he said, the plain old truth, in foreign affairs as well as in everything else, is a very fine thing indeed. Amen.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Urges Labor Reforms

VICTOR OLANDER, the secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor and an editor of its weekly news letter, recently composed an essay which I should like to discuss in a sweetly reasonable spirit because I think he has something here and that I have something to top him.

Mr. Olander was a sailor by trade so he declares his belief that "the union ship can weather the storm if its crew is disciplined, its hatches battened, its sails properly trimmed, with steady hands at the wheel and every man of the crew fully conscious not only of his rights and privileges but also of his duties and responsibilities."

We have here no spectacular blatherskite, Commuist or gangster, but a man who enjoys the respect of his community. I fault him for fastidious observance of autonomy in unionism which for all these years has deterred him and other good men in the movement from fighting the Mike Carrozzos, the Brownes and Bioffs and the Joe Fays on the ground that the internal affairs of the autonomous unions are family matters, so to speak. Mr. Olander and his like know that the rank and file subjects of such crooks can't rebel against them, and I think he knows, as I do, that a poor fellow named Pegler, who did try to start a fight in the union of operating engineers, which is Fay's union right there in Chicago, where Olander lives, was murdered in sight of his home the night after he had telephoned the Office of Internal Revenue to say that one of the high officials of the union had chased him and threatened to kill him.

Mr. Olander says that if the critics of unionism are substantially right, "then we must readjust our atitudes accordingly," because, already a dozen states have enacted restrictive laws and national restrictive laws are impending.

Like all other unioneers, he thinks all restrictive laws are unwise and that is where I top him the first time. I top him because he admits that some unions have not shown proper consideration for the public in the exercise of powers conferred on them, and because those restrictive laws were adopted in strict accordance with that "democratic process" which all the professional unioneers and the politicians on their side so stridently admire when it operates in their favor. "The people" passed those laws and, if they are "anti-labor," as of course they aren't, that is the people's will.

Mr. Olander says the unions must reform voluntarily and I say they won't and he knows they won't and that he defeated his own proposal by his negative attitude in the imminent presence of outrageous local union conditions in his own particular jurisdiction all these years. When I refer to his jurisdiction, I don't mean that he had official powers to depose the filthy things who abused the rank and file and betrayed the labor movement in Chicago. But he is a man of standing there and if he had made himself heard against such vermin ten or fifteen years ago, reform might have been accomplished from within and the people would not have found it necessary to impose the reforms from without.

WALTER WINCHELL

Quips From Big Town

E. E. EDGAR remembers when Alexander Woollcott and another dramassassin went up the aisle after the asbestos fell on a monotonous murder mystery.

"Pretty terrible, wasn't it?" said Alex.

"It stank," said the other. "Every time I open my eyes somebody was being murdered."

"You're lucky," said Woollcott. "Every time I opened mine somebody was still alive!"

Just back from Hitch with an empty wallet, a gambler informed pals that he discovered how to make money on horses.

"Sell oats!"

The gambling scandals which have hogged the headlines recall Wilson Mizner's snapper: "Some people think that betting is a means of getting something for nothing. Experience teaches us that it is usually a method of getting nothing for something."

W. C. Fields was once asked if he ever met Mark Hellinger.

"I should say I did," he replied. "Why, one night I put him so drunk it took three bellboys to put me to bed!"

At Armando's Flamingo Room a vocalist finished a medley of songs from Berlin's "Blue Skies."

"Miss," praised a patron, "you sure know how to carry a tune."

"You don't have to carry a Berlin tune," bowed the singer. "It carries you!"

"The Leo Durocher case," reports Jackie Elinson, "is certainly unusual. The first time I ever heard of a guy fighting for custody of his wife!"

Broadway is a place where there are many friends but very little friendship. The double-cross is so common that even the closest cronies never completely trust each other. The phenomenon inspired one table-squatter to observe:

"If you want to hold Broadway friends, never put their friendship to a test."

That recalls H. L. Mencken's wily admonition: "One of the most mawkish human delusions is the notion that friendship should be life-long. The fact is that a man of resilient mind outwears his friendships just as certainly as he outwears his love affairs and politics. They become threadbare, and every act and attitude that they involve becomes an act of hypocrisy."

Marshall Likely To Demand Action By Russia On Debts

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State Marshall was expected today to take a stern attitude toward Russia over settlement of her eleven billion dollar lend-lease bill.

Marshall has not committed himself on the lend-lease question, but it was believed that congressional criticism over Russia's refusal to settle the payments would result in tighter relations with the Soviets than were adopted by former Secretary Byrnes.

The lend - lease issue was brought to the fore when House members protested the fact that Russia still is using U. S. built merchant ships, acquired under lend-lease.

Got Many Items.

This is only one item in a long list of goods which Russia received in aid of her military operations against the European elements of the Axis.

The United States has assured Moscow that it has no intention to bill that country for lend-lease goods used in military operations. But it does plan to charge, at reasonable market rates, for goods left at the end of the war suitable for civilian consumption as well as goods in the "pipeline" at the termination of lend-lease.

In the case of all other countries with which settlements have been made, liberal credit terms have been given those unable to pay in a lump sum at once.

Russia was not a heavy receiver of direct military supplies such as planes, weapons and ammunition. The chief item of military value supplied was trucks to sustain the difficult supply and transportation lines needed for the Red Army.

These still are regarded as important to the Soviet economy which is handicapped by a transportation problem.

Thus far three notes have been dispatched to Moscow suggesting the beginning of talks on the lend-lease settlement. There has been no answer.

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1947 TELEPHONE 4251-6 PAGE SEVEN

'A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM'—Sunday afternoon at the First English Lutheran church, Lutheran children of America gave checks totalling $19,736 to the executive secretaries of the church. It represented the offerings of all the Lutheran children of America during 1946. The national dedication service was held here with 250 Lutheran children from Mansfield and other parts of Ohio participating in the service. Above left, Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran church of America, holds a confidential chat with Sandy Mitchell and Rebecca Slemmer, two of the children who took part in the service. At the right, David Driscoll, of Columbus, presents a check to Dr. S. White Rhyne, head of the parish and church school board. Others in the background are Miss Eleanor Stelzner, secretary for the children of the church; Dr. C. Franklin Foch, executive secretary of the board of social missions, and Dr. Luther A. Gotwald, head of the board of foreign missions. (News-Journal staff photos by George Petrovic.)

NAVAL RESERVE RANKS GROWING

Mansfield's Division 195, organized naval reserve, has been opened to all ratings, including aviation, Lt. Comdr. A. E. Heiser, in charge of the recruiting drive, announced today.

Before this ruling by the navy department, he said, all units of the organized reserve were limited to certain rating classifications.

Heiser said some 75 to 80 men, previously denied admission because of ratings they held, were now eligible. At the same time, he announced that he had brought back from Great Lakes the lease for the site of Mansfield Naval armory. Signing of the lease is expected to take place Wednesday morning.

J. T. Daley, chief recruiter for the Mansfield Navy recruiting station, announced that the navy has opened some 60 rates for enlistment in the regular navy.

Many of these rates are up to and including chief, he said. Daley pointed out that former navy men were eligible to reenlist at their old ratings no matter how long separated from the service.

MUSIC SUPERVISOR TO ADDRESS P-TA

Miss Edith Keller, state school music supervisor of Columbus, will be in Mansfield Tuesday night, Wednesday and Thursday to confer with Miss Janet Baughman, elementary music supervisor here, and other elementary music teachers.

Miss Keller will speak to the Carpenter P-TA at its meeting Tuesday night. Wednesday, she will visit elementary schools and on Thursday the junior and Senior high schools.

At 3 p. m. Wednesday, Miss Keller will be the guest at a musical program to be presented by children from Woodland, Prospect, Western, Bowman and Newman schools. There will also be observation music teaching at that time.

This is Miss Keller's first visit to Mansfield in more than 10 years.

MOTHER OF CITY RESIDENT STRICKEN

Mrs. Anna Brian Miller White, widow of Harvey W. White, and mother of N. S. White, 410 Chevy Chase road, died yesterday afternoon at Paradise Acres, Dayton, following an illness of 18 months.

Mrs. White was born in Limestone, Tenn., and had been a resident of Mansfield for 23 years until a year and a half ago when she went to Dayton. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church. Her husband died in 1924.

Besides her son, N. S. White of Mansfield, she is survived by three other sons, Harry W. of Olney, Ill., C. C. White of Tallahassee, Fla., and E. M. White of Louisville, Ky.; one daughter, Mrs. Earl Kindinger of Cincinnati.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home until noon Tuesday when the body will be taken to Robinson, Ill., for services and burial.

Mansfielder Gets Warehouse Permit

Dimon Herring of Mansfield has been granted a Civilian Production administration permit to construct a $9,000 storage building, G. W. Thompson, Cleveland district CPA director, announced today.

Herring's permit was included in a list of those for non-housing construction projects in northern Ohio costing $693,351, Thompson said.

RED CROSS JOINS HUNT FOR SILK PILLOW CASE

The Red Cross today joined the search for the silk red and gold pillow case lost by the son of Mrs. M. Krautblatt of Chicago.

In a recent letter to the News-Journal, Mrs. Krautblatt asked for aid in finding the pillow case. She explained that it would be the last Christmas present from her son, who was injured fatally in the Dec. 13 Pennsylvania train wreck at Lucas.

Esther Barnett, Red Cross home service secretary said today that the Red Cross field director at Columbus had been contacted by telephone about the pillow case. All soldier items from the train wreck were taken to Ft. Hayes at Columbus.

* * *

MISS BARNETT RECALLED how another item lost in the wreck was recovered for a soldier hospitalized at Mansfield General hospital.

The young soldier wanted very much to obtain a lavender-colored satchel lost in the wreck.

But negotiations for the satchel had to be kept a secret from his mother who had come from Danvers, Ill., to be with her injured son.

Even the nurses at the hospital were cautioned not to mention the satchel in his mother's presence.

Mrs. Milo Hieber, Red Cross volunteer home service worker, acted as go-between.

She told Miss Barnett, who on Dec. 26 called the Red Cross field director at Columbus.

* * *

THAT AFTERNOON the message came back—"Satchel Found."

But the field director could not return the satchel at that time. But, the soldier begged, could he return just one item out of that satchel. Two days later the item arrived.

When the soldier's mother came to the hospital that day, the soldier had a Christmas present for her. A locket . . . the locket he was taking home on the ill-fated train.

Donald Adams, 17, two months a soldier, had been able to surprise his mother, thanks to Mrs. Hieber, Miss Barnett, and a field director at Columbus.

Adams was removed from the hospital here last Jan. 23 to the station hospital at Fort Hayes for transfer to an Army hospital.

BOARD STUDIES PARK PROPOSAL

The proposal to utilize the county fairgrounds as a year-round recreation center and park to supplement its use during the annual fairs will be discussed at a meeting of the fair board Saturday afternoon, Orville Kibler, secretary, said today.

The board will meet in the common pleas courtroom at 1 p. m., he said. President L. L. Rinehart called the meeting.

"Representatives of the fair board met with Mansfield park officials on the proposal. Saturday they will report back to the board," Kibler said.

Other items of business to be considered Saturday will include a date for this year's fair, scheduling of premiums, and a report from delegates who attended the annual fair managers' state convention in Columbus last month.

Ackerman Goes Back to Hospital

Charles F. Ackerman, 75 Sturges avenue, 89-year-old president of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, was admitted to General hospital yesterday to recuperate from a recent fall.

Mr. Ackerman fell on the back steps of his home and was in the hospital for several days . . . turned to the hospital . . . on the advice of his physician . . . a complete rest and until he fully recovers.

REQUESTS GRANTED—

About the only time it's safe to leave the keys in your car is when it's stuck. That's what a couple of unidentified motorists discovered yesterday when their autos bogged down in deep drifts on county roads. County Engineer Walter E. Rusk reported that a man called his department yesterday and said he would appreciate it if the county road men would drive his car into the nearest farm after they pulled it out of the drift in which it was stuck on the middle Bellville road. A woman on the Lexington-Springmill road did the same. The road crews accommodated.

FOUR INJURED IN MANSFIELD AREA TRAFFIC

3 Treated After Cars Collide on Route 42 Near Ashland.

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a series of traffic accidents in the Mansfield area over the week-end.

State highway patrolmen said the collision of two cars on U. S. Route 42 two miles west of Ashland at 1:20 a. m. today injured Russell D. Tuttle, 31, and Pearl Arnett, 23, both of Wooster, and Jack B. McMullen, 22, of 370 Springmill street, Mansfield.

Ashland Samaritan hospital attendants said Arnett was the only member of the trio who needed emergency treatment. He received lacerations of the right forehead. Officers said Tuttle suffered a bruised back and McMullen a bruised knee and head.

Tuttle and McMullen, the drivers, were fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace, J. P. Bennighoff of Ashland. Tuttle was charged with blocking the highway and McMullen was fined for failing to stop within an assured clear distance.

Patrolmen said McMullen's car crashed into Tuttle's as Tuttle was warming up his car's motor.

Meanwhile, sheriff's deputies reported a minor collision in Lexington Saturday night in which a seven-month-old baby was believed injured. The baby is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Prosser, Lexington, R. D. 2.

Officers said the child was thrown against the glove compartment when a car, driven by Paul F. Schmidt, 325 Bowman street, Mansfield, collided with the Prosser auto. Deputies told the parents of the child to seek medical care for the baby.

EDISON STAMPS DUE WEDNESDAY

Thomas A. Edison stamps will go on sale at the Mansfield postoffice Wednesday. Commemorating the 100th anniversary of Edison's birth, the three-cent stamps bear a portrait of Edison, with a monogram at the lower left corner of the panel.

The monogram consists of a cogwheel, uplifted wings, and a lightning flash—symbols of power, flight, and electricity.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of the stamps may send addressed envelopes to the postmaster at Milan, O., Edison's birthplace. Limit is 10 and these must reach Milan by tomorrow, accompanied by cash, money order or postal note remittance.

Edison stamps for philatelic use are available at the Philatelic agency, Post Office department, Washington, 25, D. C.

BETTER KITCHEN MEETING SLATED

Three home demonstration meetings on the topic of kitchen improvement have been scheduled for this week, Miss Mabel Spray, home demonstration agent, announced today.

The first, at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow, will be held for Plymouth women at the home of Mrs. Ira Ross. Women have been instructed to bring a sack lunch.

Covered dish dinners will be served at the other meetings Wednesday and Thursday. One will be held at 10:45 a. m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Heller at Springmill and the other will be at the same hour Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edith Snavely at Honey Creek.

8 LUTHERAN LEADERS GET FUNDS SUNDAY

Secretaries Receive Checks at Mansfield Ceremonies; Dr. Fry Speaks.

Checks totalling $19,736 were presented by the Lutheran children of America to the eight executive secretaries of the United Lutheran church at impressive services at the First English Lutheran church Sunday afternoon.

The checks represented the offerings of Lutheran children from all parts of the country during 1946. The total was more than $7,000 over the quota for the past year.

These checks will be used by the secretaries to further the eight branches of church work which they head. Among them are foreign and home missions, parish and church school, education and children's work.

Taking part in the services were four ministers, eight executive secretaries, a director of children's work for Ohio and 17 children.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran church of America, in his sermon to the 250 Mansfield children at the meeting, urged them to "become as deeply rooted in the love of Christ as the famous Cedars of Lebanon are rooted in the soil."

He took his parable from the 93rd Psalm, in which David wrote, "The righteous shall grow like the "Cedars of Lebanon."

"Grow in such a way that you will bring comfort and happiness and shelter for other people," Dr. Fry said.

* * *

Secretaries Get Checks.

Following Dr. Fry's talk, each of the secretaries was given checks by Lutheran children of Ohio through Miss Eleanor M. Stelzner, secretary of the children of the church, and Dr. Fry.

Gretchen Gault of Ashland gave a check to Dr. Luther A. Gotwald, executive secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions; Janet Freidt, of Wadsworth to Dr. Arthur M. Knudsen, Board of American Missions; Norma Carol Driscoll of Columbus to Dr. Gould Wickey, Board of Education, and Carol de Bruin of Akron to Sister Anna Ebert, Board of Deaconess work.

Eldon Campbell of Bucyrus gave a check to Harry Hodges, of the Board of Pension and Relief, the only layman secretary in the group. Dorothy Campbell of Mt. Zion was the donor of the check to Dr. Franklin Koch, of the Board of Social Missions; David Driscoll of Columbus, to Dr. S. White Rhyne, Parish and Church School board, and Parry Hutchins of Wapakoneta, to Miss Stelzner, secretary of the Children of the Church.

Tell of Mission Work.

Lutheran children of Mansfield told of visits to the various mission stations and the work supported by the United Lutheran church. John Linton told of the work in India; David Kern of the work done by the deaconesses; Patricia Robinson, home missions; Rebecca Slemmer, South American mission; Marilyn Knarr, negro work; Nora Pankow, home mission in Los Angeles; Sherry Fike, work in Puerto Rico; and Dorothy Nussbaum and Shirley Gurtz, with Miss Stelzner, activities of a day in Miss Stelzner's office.

Ministers who took part in the services, besides Dr. Fry, were Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, Rev. Carl A. Driscoll of Columbus, director of young people's work for the Synod of Ohio, and Rev. Joseph W. Frease, director of young people's work for the Lutheran churches of America.

Mrs. George F. Weissling, of Wapakoneta, director of children's work for Ohio, directed the mission station presentation.

Anthems for the service were sung by the boys and girls of the Melody choir of the First church under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Ireland, with Mrs. Naomi Bell at the organ.

Drivers Lose Their Licenses In Municipal Court Hearings

Eight persons were fined a total of $300 and costs today in municipal court. Two of them were charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. License of both were suspended.

A third motorist was charged with being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol and a fourth was charged with failing to stop after an accident.

Case of Joseph Diemer jr., 429 Scholl road, charged with drunk and disorderly conduct and resisting an officer, was tentatively set for hearing Friday.

Court attaches said two other similar charges, under which Diemer was booked several weeks ago, will probably be heard Friday, too.

They said he is free under bonds totaling $250 on the four charges.

Fined $75 and costs each on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol were Eugene Dopps, 185 West Park boulevard, and Clifford R. Blue, Mt. Vernon. Drivers' licenses of both were suspended for six months.

Harold A. Thomas, 411 Bowman street, was fined $75 and costs on a charge of being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Charles A. Laser, 25, Shiloh, R. D. 2, charged with failing to stop after an accident, was fined $50 and costs and his license was suspended for six months. Police said a car Laser was driving collided Jan. 8, with one driven by Ralph L. Sturgis, of Ashland.

Canton Man Fined.

Harry D. Gibner, 52, of Canton, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of failing to yield right-of-way. His car collided with one driven by Murriel D. Majors, 23, of Mansfield, R. D. 3, police said.

Case of Daniel Bruce, Small avenue, who pleaded innocent to a charge of failing to yield right-of-way, was continued until later in the week, court attaches said. His car allegedly collided with one driven by Karl Kennedy, Lexington, R. D. 2.

Other motorists fined included Thomas A. Joy, Mansfield, R. D. 6, $5 and costs, failure to stop at a stop sign; Andrew Stirtzinger, 84 Orchard street, $5 and costs, failure to display lights, and Robert H. Perry, Charleston, W. Va., $5 and costs, failure to display license plates.

HANK GREENBERG TO RETIRE AS ACTIVE PLAYER

OUTDOORS
With

"OHIO'S WILDLIFE conservation program which continues to be looked to throughout the nation as one of the most active and progressive post-war programs is being threatened with a set-back in federal aid because of the backwardness of some states' so says Ohio's Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider, 'and this just must not happen'"

The Pittman-Robertson Federal-Aid-To-Wildlife Act was created in 1938 to provide a federal fund from the 11% excise tax on arms and ammunition to be apportioned to the various states on the basis of land area and the number of hunting licenses sold each year.

Each year the Department of the Interior requests from this earmarked accumulation the amount of money necessary to fulfill their Grants-in-Aid program form of complaints from various form of complaints from various states and those who provide the tax by buying arms and ammunition is that each year the request is much smaller than the total amount of the taxes collected.

* * *

This procedure has caused a surplus amounting to almost $15,000,000 which rightfully should be put to use for wildlife conservation throughout the nation. This past year the collection amounted to $5,000,000 but the Department of the Interior requested only one half of that amount for the coming year's apportionments

The only logical reasoning coming unofficially out of Washington is that some states that have inactive or unprogressive wildlife conservation programs have failed to use up the amounts of their apportionments which has created the attitude in Washington that "if the states aren't going to use all the money alloted, then we'll cut the allotments."

And that's where Ohio and other states with active Pittman-Robertson projects have a right to voice their complaints

* * *

CONSERVATION Commissioner Rider some few weeks ago in a letter to President Truman pointed out that such an attitude seemed unfair to the progressive states like Ohio especially since it is generally recognized by all Game Administrators and the men of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior that both upland game and migratory waterfowl and other migratory birds are in a most critical situation and are in immediate need of restoration projects.

To date the Commissioner has had no official acknowledgment from Washington about the matter. An Associated Press newspaper release however has mentioned that Mr. Rider's letter has been received and that the matter is being given some consideration.

"Ohio's share of the fund actually has never in years past added up to a large figure," Mr Rider points out, "nevertheless the program provides funds for certain legally recommended projects urgently needed in Ohio that may not seem feasible to the Ohio license buyer who provides the Ohio Division of Conservation with its only source of revenue."

HOMER KING SPURNS PIRATE PLAYING OFFER

NEW YORK — (UP) — Spurning a salary of more than $70,00, Hank Greenberg, no big leagues home run leader for 1946, decided to retire as an active player today so as to continue several other positions during baseball.

Greenberg who hit 44 home runs for a Detroit Tigers last season and was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates for $35,000 last month, said yesterday that he was reluctant to start anew in a new environment. The 36-year-old outfielder-first baseman emphasized that any arms and nothing to do with his decision not to sign a 1947 contract.

"The Pittsburgh Athletic company," Greenberg said, "offered me more money than I ever received at Detroit." President Frank Mulmey of the Pirates, with who Hank had been conferring the past few days, said in a statement from Pittsburgh that the ex-Tiger player had been offed more than $75,000 in straight salary.

The Pittsburgh president added that Greenberg informed him that he was considering other positions outside baseball, and those plans caused the club to hesitate about signing for 1947

Hank said his decision was extremely difficult to reach since he loved the game and still felt there is yet much good baseball in me as a player and executive." Greenberg added that he had the warmest regard for Pittsburgh representatives and was indebted to Pirate baseball fans for their expressions of friendliness.

Greenberg's announcement came as a surprise but the husky right-handed said he felt compelled to make it

"They (Pittsburgh officials) expected me to make a formal announcement of my signing at the Pittsburgh Baseball Writers' dinner which comes up shortly," Hank said, "but since I didn't intend to play at Pittsburgh next season, I thought this was the fair way to do things."

He made it plain that should he ever come to re-enter baseball in an active capacity, it would be only with the Pirates

McKinney said Greenberg was purchased from Detroit in good faith and that all stands. He gave no indication that he would attempt to recover the purchase price Hank himself said he had "no idea" what would become of the money

Greenberg who previously sought confirmation for the then-vacant Detroit general managership, said he might have an announcements to his future plans within a day or so. He automatically will replaced on baseball's voluntarily retired list.

Badgers Top Big 9; Meet Wolves Tonight

CHICAGO —(INS)— Wisconsin's league-leading Badgers cast a look of mock sympathy at the floundering Big Nine pack today hoped their foes ailments were nothing unusual, and prepared to deal the unkindest cut of all to Michigan's second-placers tonight.

Sitting nonchalantly atop the deck with six league wins in seven starts the Badgers could almost touch the golden conference cage crown with their outstretched fingers But they also had to ponder their forthcoming schedule which casts the dapper Badgers in the role of the unwanted visitor four times on five remaining conference games.

Further recreation tonight is booked for Columbus, where Purdue and Ohio State will join in pursuing not very much. Both lost Saturday night, and both are mired someplace south of the first division.

Purdue's setback Saturday night provided what must be classed as the evening's top note Northwestern's last-place Wildcats, struck with their perennial Chicago stadium fever, rose up and came out ahead of the Boilermakers by a squeaky 54 to 58

Northwestern's win, combined with Iowa's 36-to-45 loss to Illinois at Champaign saw the Wildcats and Hawkeyes tied for last place in the standings.

At Ann Arbor Mich., the Michigan Wolverines sidled into a tie for second with Indiana by vanquishing Ohio State, 56 to 53 Indiana was enjoying a non-conference 93-to-41 romp over little Earlham college.

And at Madison, Wis —Wisconsin won.

Nine points behind with 12 minutes of playing time remaining, the Badgers suddenly remembered now this game of basketball is played and hurtled to a 60-to-51 win over Minnesota.

Joe D Maggio of New York rounded out one of the American league batting oddities of the 1946 season The Yankee Clipper had identical batting averages against the Boston Red Sox and in games played at Yankee Stadium and at Boston In each case against Red Sox pitching Joe had 11 hits in 42 trips to the plate for a .262 mark in each case

Ohio Cities Might Get Football Team

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Three Ohio cities were leading contenders today for berths in the American football league providing a proposal to enlarge the circuit to 14 teams bears fruit

President Joe Rosenroter mentioned Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Indianapolis, Louisville, Detroit and Erie in discussing plans to form eastern and western divisions of the minor loop

He said the new teams would form part of a western division, which would include Akron, 1946 western titlist

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT
And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 20 ft. of food is digested. And when the food gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to unblock your lower intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Blue Pills now. Take as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. Then permit all 5 of Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food. You get genuine relief from indigestion so you can feel really good again.

Buy Carter's Pills today. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion. —Adv

Wesley Fesler Is Predicted To Lead Bucks

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Quick approval by the Ohio State university athletic board of Wesley E. Fesler as the school's new head football coach was predicted today.

Fesler a former Ohio State sports star officially was offered the post Saturday at a conference in Pittsburgh with Ohio State Athletic Director L. W. St. John and Director-elect Richard C. Larkins Mr. Fesler is head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh.

Upon returning to Columbus with St. John, Larkins said: "We want to get the board's decision as soon as possible." Larkins said he didn't know whether he would be able to get the 12 members of the board together for a meeting today "but we hope to get them together early this week."

The university's board of trustees would have to pass on the appointment following favorable action by the athletic board.

Fesler hasn't said whether he would accept the post which Paul O Buker vacated last week to become head football coach at Colgate university. The offer presented him, however was described in sports circles here as one "he cannot turn down."

From Pittsburgh, it was reported that the Ohio State athletic department officials who made the offer to Fesler said the post was his if he wanted it and no other candidates would be considered until he rejected the job. Terms of the offer were not disclosed.

Fesler was quoted as saying that "everybody has been swell to me" in Pittsburgh and that "one couldn't want a better bunch of boys to work with than I had last fall and the prospects are even better for next year."

Balancing the attractions at Pittsburgh, however, Fesler was reported considering the drawing points at Ohio State—a chance to return to his alma mater, to work with close and life-long friends, and the prestige of coaching at a western conference school.

Fesler won All-America football honors twice while starring for the Bucks a decade and a half ago He won three letters each in football, basketball and baseball. In basketball he won recognition as an All-Western conference guard, and in baseball he was the first Buck player to win the Potter run-maker cup two years straight.

At Pitt last season, Fesler's football team won three games, lost six and tied one out of a tough schedule.

Oliver Takes Texas Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(UP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., hoped today that his victory in the $10,000 Texas open marked the start of six fat years following six lean ones.

Oliver scored a seven-under-par 64 on the final 18 holes yesterday for a 72-hole total of 265 and victory by one stroke over Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Cal. who won the Tucson open a week earlier.

Harry Todd, Dallas was third with 268 strokes Vic Ghezzi, Knoxville, Tenn., and Fred Haas New Orleans, were next with 269's, and Dick Metz of Chicago had 270.

COUNTY SETS UP ROAD MEETINGS

The annual series of meetings between the Richland county commissioners, county engineer and trustees and clerks of all townships for a study of county-township road and drainage problems will be held during the second and third weeks of March.

Notices of the meetings will be mailed to the trustees and clerks of each township next week, County Engineer Walter Rusk said. He said they will be asked to notify him or the commissioners if the following schedule of meeting dates is not satisfactory:

March 10—Butler, Bloomingrove, Cass and Plymouth townships; March 12—Sharon, Jackson, Franklin and Weller townships; March 13—Sandusky and Springfield townships; March 14—Mifflin, Monroe, Madison and Worthington townships; March 17—Washington, Troy, Perry and Jefferson townships.

The meetings will follow the annual road meeting of the township trustees in the First Methodist church here at noon March 7. In the afternoon of that day the trustees will view an extensive display of road maintenance and repair machinery at the Armory.

DOLL CONTEST ALL INCLUSIVE

The doll contest at the Mansfield Public Library Saturday has been expanded to include every and all types of dolls.

Miss Eva Leonard, children's librarian, said the interest shown in the contest demanded a greater variety of dolls for which ribbons will be awarded. Any doll, whether new, old, large, small, costumed, rag or homemade, will be welcome.

Judges will examine the dolls, divide them into as many classes as necessary to give every doll a fair chance, and ribbons will be awarded to the outstanding dolls in all groups, Miss Leonard said.

The story hour will begin at the usual 10 a. m. time. Children bringing dolls are urged to be at the library by 9:45 a. m. The judging will be made during the story hour and ribbons will be awarded. Following the story hour, the winners will be announced.

Miss Leonard said that, weather permitting, Miss Myra Lorimer, former children's librarian here, will be the guest story-teller. Miss Lorimer is now of Lakewood.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Adv.

A Weak, Run-down Feeling Is Often A Warning That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like yourself, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the pale of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, has by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater fullness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. —Adv.

Au-Dillon Rite Read Thursday

The parsonage of St. John's Evangelical church was the scene last Thursday of the marriage of Miss Georgettia Dillon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dillon, 629 Woodville Road, to Jesse Au, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Au, sr., Osbun Road.

The Rev. Paul Saleste, pastor of St. John's church, officiated at the ceremony and the couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Salsgiven, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

For her wedding the bride chose a powder blue crepe dress and black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. Mrs. Salsgiven was attired all in brown and her costume was accented with a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Au is employed by Farm Tools, Inc., and his wife has been with the Perfection Bed Springs company.

TWO TROOPSHIPS DUE AT OAKLAND

(By Associated Press)

The army transport Goucher Victory, carrying 287 military personnel and three civilians from Yokohama, and the Marine Serpent with 2,183 troops and 46 civilians from Guam and Saipan, are due to dock today at Oakland, Calif.

The John Blair, due at New York with 12 troops and 89 army dogs from Bremerhaven, is the only other ship carrying military personnel due at a United States port today.

Yesterday, three transports arrived at New York from Bremerhaven. They were the Admiral Rodman, with 1,019 troops, 70 war brides, 20 navy personnel, 55 civilians, 63 army dependents and seven Red Cross workers; the Lambert Cadwalader, with 20 troops; and the General Ballou, with 1,148 troops, 44 dependents, seven civilians, nine navy personnel and 50 military prisoners.

'Apeboy' Ready For New Life; Ugly Face Lifted

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich—(AP)—David Ruge, once called the "Apeboy," headed home today toward a new life.

The 17-year-old Chicago boy, his formerly ugly features remodeled by a Grand Rapids plastic surgeon, returned home with the blight of his past attempt at crime behind him.

"I'm glad to be on my way home," said Ruge, who last year admitted trying to extort money for the necessary operation—which Dr. Ferris Smith here performed without charge. "My face looks fine, and the doctor says it's going to look a lot better."

He said he would return to his job with a Chicago Glass company, no longer fearful of taunts of fellow workers.

To remove black-rubber heel marks from linoleum, rub them with a cloth moistened with liquid wax, turpentine or cleaning fluid.

URANIUM FOUND

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—The directorate of mines reported today the discovery of uranium in west central Argentina.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

A prominent American was invited to address a Swedish club in Minneapolis recently and spoke of the aims of the United Nations and of the need for all Americans to pull together regardless of the land of their birth.

The audience listened respectfully enough but the speaker was very disappointed when he got no applause whatever either during the course of his speech or after he sat down.

There followed him to the platform a Swedish gentleman. As he began his speech the audience warmed up at once several cheers punctuated his address and when he sat down the audience rose to its feet and cheered lustily. The first speaker politely joined in the ovation. Then he turned to the man next to him on the platform.

What did he say that aroused all that enthusiasm? he asked curiously.

Why answered the man in some surprise he was simply repeating your speech in Swedish.

33 VETS SEEK TRAINING UNDER FEDERAL PLAN

25 to Be Chosen for Course At Shiloh School.

Twenty-five young Richland county farmers will be selected for the county's on-the-job GI farm training program Wednesday. They were among 33 who applied for the instruction at an organization meeting held Friday night in the Shiloh high school.

Boyd Robinson, county schools superintendent, is chairman of the advisory committee for the program.

"Under regulations of the state department of education the class will be limited to 25 We hope to select the 25 at a meeting in the Shiloh high school next Wednesday evening." Robinson said.

* * *

2 Groups Affected.

Created under provisions of the GI Bill of Rights, the farm training program provides for class room instruction and government benefit payments to two groups of veteran trainees: employer-trainer laborers and self-proprietors.

"Because those in the employer-trainer part of the program are already drawing their benefits without the classroom training, first consideration will be given to those who want to operate their own farms as self-proprietors," Robinson said.

Another factor in the selection of the 25 former servicemen will be the distance they live from Shiloh. Twenty of the 33 applicants want to participate as self-proprietors and as such will receive first consideration. The remaining five will be selected on a basis of how far they live from Shiloh where the classes are to be held.

"Those who live in the southern part of the county will just be out of luck," Robinson said. "Because the instructor will have to visit each farm often during the instruction program we must keep his mileage down."

However, the superintendent held out hope for the unlucky eight who will have to be eliminated.

"If this class works successfully we may be able to organize another in another section of the county," he remarked.

Third Training School Starts

MT. GILEAD — Twenty-one veterans of World War II, including one woman, Mrs. Vera McCormick, are enrolled in Morrow county's third agricultural on-the-job training school.

The class got underway last week with a night meeting at the Chesterville high school farm shop. L. D. Rinehart, former Morrow county AAA chairman, is the new instructor.

Mrs. McCormick, a former WAC, is believed to be the only woman veteran in the state taking the training. She is farming with her husband, Ralph, on their farm southeast of Chesterville. Mrs. McCormick plans to specialize in poultry and her husband, who is also enrolled in the school, will specialize in dairy farming.

RITES SET FOR TRAIN VICTIMS

NEW LONDON — Simple rites will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Clarksfield Methodist church, four miles north of here, for Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin and his brother, Lewis, who were killed in a railroad crossing accident Saturday.

James Griffin, 23, his wife, Margaret, 18, and Griffin's brother, who was 25, were killed when their automobile was struck and dragged more than 1,000 feet by a fast Big Four passenger train at the West Main street crossing here.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin lived in Cleveland and Lewis Griffin lived on a farm near Clarksfield. They had been visiting Mrs. Griffin's father, Joe Hatala, of New London.

Rev. G. L. Kettenring, formerly of the New London Baptist church and now of Norwalk, will officiate at the funeral services. He will be assisted by Rev. Avery Butler, pastor of the Clarksfield church. Burial will be in Clarksfield cemetery.

Hatala is the only known close relative to survive Mrs. Griffin. Mrs. Laura Griffin, mother of the Griffin brothers, lived with Lewis near Clarksfield.

MISSING BUCYRUS BUYER'S CAR FOUND

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cleveland police disclosed today they had recovered a 1946 automobile apparently abandoned a week ago by Edward Sherk, missing Bucyrus cattle buyer.

Four of Sherk's creditors last week filed an involuntary bankruptcy suit against him, claiming he owed them more than $100,000 for delivered livestock and loans. He also was charged in Kenton, O., with passing $14,000 in bad checks.

Patrolman Richard Collier said the car was found Saturday in a parking lot adjacent to an East side gasoline station. The car, he added, was listed in Sherk's name but a Columbus, O., dealer still holds the title.

Bucyrus Directory Backed By Jaycees

BUCYRUS—Efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are being directed toward the publishing of an industrial directory and a committee has been appointed to investigate such an undertaking.

Other Jaycee activity is a move to return the two Pennsylvania passenger trains, recently taken from the Bucyrus schedule.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO —(AP)—Grains were mixed at the opening of trading on the board of trade today. Prices slumped fractionally from opening levels as additional profit-taking following last week's advance entered the pits.

Wheat started ½ cent lower to ¾ higher, March $2.20, corn was unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.34¾-¾, and oats ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March 79¾.

2 Candidates To Seek Shelby Political Posts

SHELBY—Two more candidates have announced they will seek two city council posts in the May primary here.

Dr. E. J. Schad will be a candidate for fourth ward councilman. D. W. Cook now fills that post on the council. Several days ago Cook announced his intention to run for councilman-at-large.

Ross Sipes also has announced that he would run for reelection for the councilman-at-large post. He has been on the council since 1940. He was elected twice as second ward councilman and for the last four years has been serving as councilman-at-large.

Since the last city election, all councilmen were elected by city-wide voting. At the present time, each ward elects a councilman and the entire city votes for the councilman-at-large.

Dr. Schad is a newcomer in politics. He has been a dentist in Shelby for 22 years, and lives with his wife at 24 East Jefferson street.

Up to the present time no one has announced their intentions for filing for the first and third wards.

RED CROSS SETS QUOTA AT $3,000

MT. GILEAD—Morrow county's quota for the 1947 Red Cross drive, which will start March 1, is $3,000, Lafe Courtright, general chairman of the drive, has announced. Last year's quota of $6,400 was exceeded, Courtright said.

Members who served last year and will serve again this year include Mrs. Roscoe Dennis, chairman; Mrs. Bess Jensen, executive secretary; Mrs. Clifford Ward, treasurer; Mrs. Nelson Campbell, production chairman; Mrs. Mildred Rice, Mrs. Nell Miller and Mrs. Horace Braden, members of the Red Cross board, and Lafe Courtright, campaign chairman.

Dewitte H. Hunt was appointed to serve as fund secretary and treasurer for the coming campaign succeeding Charles Hickson.

There will be a meeting in the near future to organize the entire county and to select township chairmen. Following the meeting a short but intensive campaign is planned, Courtright said.

"The people of Morrow county have always been ready and willing to give and we feel sure that they are ready to support the coming drive as they have supported campaigns in the past," he said.

New London WSCS Holds Guest Night

NEW LONDON — Mrs Harry Hempe, secretary of supplies, home and foreign missions and a member of the Norwalk district, Methodist church, was the speaker at the annual guest night observance of the Women's Society of Christian Service here last week.

Approximately 70 society members and their guests attended the meeting. The devotional service was in charge of Mrs Edith Teets. The program was directed by Mrs. Jennie Landes.

YOUNG APPOINTED

LOUDONVILLE — Mayor Ed Smith has appointed James Young as the new street commissioner. The appointment was approved by city council.

The council also approved plans to install new sewers in the Happy Hollow district on Wooster road. Old sewers in the area will be cleaned.

DENNIS HEADS BOARD

SHELBY — Gerald Dennis was elected to head the Marvin Memorial library board to succeed Mrs. Boyd Smith, president. Other officers elected include Mrs. Everett Tiffany, vice president, and Mrs. John Seltzer, secretary-treasurer.

BODY OF LUCAS RECLUSE FOUND OUTSIDE HOME

Coroner Attributes Death To Stroke, Exposure.

LUCAS — The body of Roy Hoopes, 68-year-old recluse, was found here yesterday afternoon just outside the door of a one-room shanty in which he lived.

Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland county coroner, said death was caused by a stroke, and was hastened by exposure. Mr. Hoopes last was seen Friday night, and Dr. Lavender estimated the time of death at 4 a. m. Saturday.

Mr. Hoopes's snow-covered body was found about 5 p. m. yesterday by a neighbor, Ray Muth. Muth told sheriff's deputies that he noticed the shanty seemed deserted, and discovered the body when he approached the house to investigate.

The aged recluse, a bachelor, lived alone in a one-room shanty on the site of a house formerly occupied by himself and two brothers, which burned down some years ago.

The two brothers died several years ago, and since that time Mr. Hoopes had lived by himself. He was born Dec. 19, 1878, in Lucas. His only close survivor is a sister, Mrs. Minnie Barr, of 364 West Fourth street, Mansfield. Four nephews and four nieces also survive.

The body was removed to the Byerly funeral home, where services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, with Rev. Otis Eubanks, pastor of the Lucas Four Square church, officiating. Burial will be in Williams cemetery.

MRS. BELLE GREGG

ASHLAND — Services for Mrs. Belle Gregg, 71, resident of Savannah for 30 years prior to moving to Hopedale, who died at her home in Hopedale Friday, were to be held there today with burial in Savannah cemetery.

Mrs. Gregg, native of Pennsylvania, was a member of the Savannah United Presbyterian church. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Ann Barber, with whom she was residing at the time of her death, and one niece, Mrs. James Jelley of Ashland.

5 PRISONERS FLEE, THREE RECAPTURED

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Three convicts had less than three hours freedom early today after fleeing over a wall of the Holmesburg state prison, but two other dangerous, long-term robbers remained at large.

It was the second mass escape attempted by the men in less than two years. On April 3, 1945, they tunneled out of the Eastern state penitentiary with four others—and it took police almost a week to get them all back in custody.

This morning they overpowered Guard William Skelton as he was making a routine pre-dawn check of the cell blocks, Warden Robert J. Beveridge reported.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, Feb. 11.

While there are auguries of an exceptionally active, interesting and productive day, as well there are portents of obstacles, postponements and other depressing circumstances or impediments, which must be handled with unusually clever, astute, shrewd and persistent endeavors. Carefully considered changes, new tactics and smart maneuvers should gain surprising success. Such may call for some festivities or other functions of a personal nature. In fact friendly, social or sentimental relations may be at the root of such bright turn of events or final issues.

Those whose birthday it is may be justified in looking forward to a chain of events starting out with a depressed and frustrated state of affairs, eventually turning congested or static conditions into genuine gain and enduring success, with much private gratification. A shrewd analysis and evaluation of obstructing circumstances, with probable change of techniques, maneuvers or even travel or new environs, might more things into a constructive channel. The mentality may be keen as a factor for new performance, and the use of purely personal, social or professional contacts may be employed to great advantage and final satisfactions.

A child born on this day is well qualified to handle stubborn obstacles by its mentality and personality.

LILIENTHAL CALED 'RUSSIAN APPEASER'

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D., Tenn., was assured some Republican support today in his fight against David E. Lilienthal's appointment to head the atomic energy commission.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H., branded Lilienthal as "an appeaser of Russia" and called on the GOP to oppose him as a party issue.

There were strong indications that his plea would be considered by the senate Republican policy committee this week. Two senators, friendly toward Lilienthal, admitted that the campaign against him could now muster at least 20 senate votes.

Wealthy Slayer's Son Changes Name

NEW YORK —(AP)— The state supreme court has granted permission for 4-year-old Wayne William Lonergan to drop the name of his father, Wayne Lonegan, who is serving a sentence of 35 years to life for slaying his wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan.

The heir to the multi-million dollar fortune of his slain mother will be known as William Anthony Burton.

The beautiful, 22-year-old Mrs. Lonergan was beaten to death in her fashionable Beekman Hill home Oct. 24, 1945.

LIVESTOCK, GRAIN DESTROYED BY FIRE

FREDERICKTOWN — Seventy-five head of livestock were burned to death and more than 1,000 bushels of corn and wheat lost when a barn at the Robert Frazier farm two miles south of here, was destroyed early yesterday.

Fire Chief Ralph White of Fredericktown estimated the damage at more than $15,000, which he said was only partially covered by insurance.

Lost in the blaze were 25 dairy cattle, 45 sheep, three pigs and two saddle horses. Also destroyed were 1,000 bushels of corn, 200 bushels of wheat and 16 tons of hay. White said the fire was out of control by the time firemen arrived at the scene.

The fire was discovered by a Fredericktown resident, who saw the reflection of the flames in the sky. Frazier was awakened by firemen who arrived on the scene a few minutes later.

BOOK REVIEWER ENGAGED

ASHLAND —Women's Society for Christian Service of the First Methodist church will again sponsor a series of book reviews by Mrs. Aileen Benninghoff, of Cleveland, next year after completing a successful sponsorship of the series this year, the society voted at its meeting last week.

Miss Walter, former society editor of the Mansfield News-Journal, left Mansfield this week for post graduate work in journalism at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton Walter, 141 West Second street, she joined the editorial staff of the News-Journal in November, 1945, becoming head of the social department, six weeks later.

She is a graduate of Vassar college, 1944 and the Roycemore School for Girls, 1940. Previous to her associations with the News-Journal, she did personnel work in New York City.

MISS MARGARET WALTER

Miss Walter is a member of the Grace Episcopal church. She was a nurses' aide and served on the social committee for the dedication of the Mansfield Municipal airport. While in New York she was a junior hostess at the Stage Door Canteen for eight months during the war.

Seneff-Zimmerman Nuptials Read Sunday Afternoon

IN A PRETTY ceremony Sunday afternoon in the First Evangelical United Brethren church, Miss Sylvia Seneff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seneff, 104 Lind avenue, became the bride of Roger C. Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Zimmerman, 484 South Diamond street.

The Rev. Willard Shawk officiated at the altar which was banked with palms and ferns and two beauty baskets of white and peach gladioli. Two seven-branch candelabra flanked the floral decorations.

A short musicale preceded the ceremony with Miss Pauline Statler at the organ.

Mrs. Zimmerman, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin wedding gown with a fitted bodice and a full skirt which fell in a short train. Her fingertip veil was held by a seed pearl tiara and she carried a white shower bouquet centered with red roses.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Richard Zimmerman, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, as matron of honor and Miss Daisy Bosko and Mrs. Evelyn Horvath, bridesmaids. All were dressed in identical fuchsia velvet gowns with matching headbands. Mrs. Zimmerman's headband was accented by orchid gladioli and the bridesmaids wore the same flowers in peach. Each attendant carried a fuchsia velvet muff bearing a corsage of flowers matching her headdress.

Mrs. Seneff chose for her daughter's wedding a navy dress with black accessories and she wore pink gladioli. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in black velvet with black accessories and her corsage was of pink and white gladioli.

Richard Zimmerman served his brother as best man and the ushers were Kenneth Clever, brother-in-law of the bride, and Harker Zimmerman, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents following the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Kenneth Clever, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Lading Bader presided at the serving table which was centered by a three-tiered bride's cake. Greenery and tall white tapers completed the pretty decorations.

When the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip to Detroit, Mrs. Zimmerman wore a grey suit and topcoat and black accessories. She wore the roses from the center of her bride's bouquet.

Upon their return to Mansfield, the couple will be at home at 172 West Fourth street. Mr. Zimmerman is employed by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company.

Former Butler Teacher Weds In Ankenytown

Of interest to Mansfielders and residents of Butler is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Laura Alice McIntire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McIntire of Fredericktown R. D. 1, and Lawrence A. Wilson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson of Alliance. The former Miss McIntire was a teacher in the Butler high school for several years and has many friends in this community.

The wedding was solemnized Feb. 1, at 7:30 p. m. in the Church of the Brethren, Ankenytown, by the Rev. Walter Keller. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Richard Workman of Fredericktown.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Myrtle Miller of Columbus, matron of honor, and flower girls, Linda Lou and Sandra McIntire, both nieces of the bride.

Miss McIntire wore a bridal gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, with a deep yoke of marquisette, which was outlined with a design of seed pearls, long tapering sleeves and a full skirt, widening into a circular train.

The fingertip veil was caught to a tiara of pearls and the bouquet of gardenias and white carnations was showered with white satin streamers into which were tied French carnations.

Leonard Bidlake of Bedford served his brother-in-law as best man and seating the guests were Hoy McIntire of Columbus and Maj. Howard McIntire of Paxton, Ill. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the church for 60 guests.

Presiding for the reception were Mrs. Leonard Bidlake, Mrs. Howard McIntire, Mrs. Dan Ridenour and Mrs. Orlan Workman.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New York City the bride was wearing a smoke white suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

The former Miss McIntire was graduated from the Manchester college, North Manchester, Ind., and received her master's degree from Ohio State university. She is at the present time an instructor at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware. Mr. Wilson attended Akron university and is employed by the War Assets administration.

MRS. LAWRENCE WILSON

Martha Louise Au Becomes Bride of John H. Friday

PALMS, ferns and large beauty baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar for the wedding of Miss Martha Louise Au, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Au, R. D. 1, Lucas, and John Herbert Friday, R. D. 1, Mansfield, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Pleasant Valley church, south of Lucas. Mr. Friday is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Friday.

The candlelight service was read by Rev. Ralph Chapman of Lucas in the presence of relatives and friends. Nuptial music was played by Miss Alleyne Liebhart and sung by Mrs. Catherine Stahl.

Miss Stahl was given in marriage by her father. She appeared the altar wearing a white jersey wedding gown, fingertip veil and carrying a bouquet of white roses with inserted garden corsage. Matron of honor was Mrs. Cloyd Kessler, of Mansfield, sister of the bride, who wore a blue taffeta frock and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Joseph Au, brother of the bride, R. D. 1, Lucas, and Dale Bryan, Mansfield, R. D. 6, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated the guests for the service. Edward R. Friday was his brother's best man.

Miss Au wore a two piece navy blue dress with black accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Friday's frock was wine color with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors with refreshment table decorated with white sweet-peas and lighted tapers.

Following a trip through the southern states, the couple will reside at R. D. 1, Lucas, March 1. For traveling the bride wore a light blue dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Friday was graduated from Lucas high school and Mr. Friday from Springfield township high school. Both are employed at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

University Club Dance Attended By Many Feb. 8

One hundred and ten couples enjoyed the annual University club "in-town" guest dance held in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel Saturday evening. The formal affair was held from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. with music furnished by Nels Blocker's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Walter McConnell were chairmen of the dance, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Quinlan.

Preceding the dance a cocktail party was held for 19 couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slabaugh, 589 Andover road. Dr. and Mrs. Donald Dewald, Park avenue west, entertained 12 couple for dinner before going to the dance. The Robert H. Ross home, Andover road, was the scene of a buffet supper at 6:30 p. m. for 24. Guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. William S. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hanley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glattke, Mrs. Charles Orr, Dr. A. Sprecker, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cerny, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Balyeat, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hout.

Also entertaining before the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Roth, Andover, with a cocktail party for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eliot, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John Felker, Mr. and Mrs. William Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. William Bloor, all of Mansfield and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Welsh of Loudonville.

YWCA Plans Busy Schedule For Month of February

ACTIVITIES for the month of February at the YWCA prove to be unusually busy, according to the resume compiled by the executive office this week.

Highlight of the month will be the annual YWCA membership dinner at the Park Avenue Baptist church Tuesday evening, 18th. Miss Margaret Wheeler, Mrs. Albert Linder and Miss Dorothy Dann compose the general committee. Guest speaker will be Miss Oolooah Burner, writer and lecturer, from Little Switzerland, N. C. She served as national secretary of the YWCA for many years. Approximately 200 are expected to attend the annual event. Tickets may be obtained at the YW headquarters, 26 South Mulberry street.

Classes in bridge began Friday evening at the YW home with Mrs. Frances Schultz as instructor. They will continue for an eight week term.

Saturday morning a large group of girls from eight to 12 years registered for "Saturday House," for a six week term. Tap dancing lessons are a feature of this group and also a story hour in charge of Mrs. J. W. Funk.

Another popular feature at the YW was begun Friday evening when a "get-acquainted" dinner for employed girls, who are new in the city, was held. Those honored were Mrs. Julia Hartman English, Margaret Karbula, Eileen Reynolds, Eva Leonard, Faye Griswold and Lois Good.

Sunday at 7 o'clock an interracial forum for members and guests was held at the First Methodist church. These meetings have proven to be most educational and constructive.

This group was organized three years ago and will be active in participating in the Brotherhood week which is to be celebrated beginning Feb. 23. The YW is one of the agencies bringing Dr. Bernard Clausen to the city for this observance. Community services will be held at the First Lutheran church.

Members of the Senior Blue Tri club will meet today for a planning service project at County home. Junior Blue Tri club members will hear a home economics expert from the Ohio Fuel Gas company.

Hyfun club members will meet for a dance tonight at the YMCA.

Tuesday evening new YW board members will be welcomed at the regular meeting. They include Mrs. Dale Channell, Mrs. J. L. Hogan, Mrs. Orlo L. Smith, Mrs. M. W. Wappner, Mrs. P. M. Wragg, Miss Annabel Shaniberger and Miss Leona Snyder.

Also scheduled for Tuesday is the Nous Servons club for election of officers and friendship box service project. Beta Gamma, a group of employed girls, will hold a party and patriotic program Wednesday at the YW. For Thursday Mrs. Arthur Knight, chairman of the public affairs committee, announces a discussion on "Security Council of United Nations." Miss Luella Carter will be in charge, assisted by Misses Erline Reynolds, Wilma Ziegler, Mrs. Dale McKinney and Mrs. H. J. Maginniss. The interracial group will meet for discussion on "Negro Life and History."

Saturday from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. the Appleseed Y-Teen club party will be held in charge of Joan Gilbert, Rosemary Zeides and Beverly Brissell.

Bellville Service Of Interest to Mansfielders

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckwith, Bellville, was the scene of the wedding, Feb. 2, of their daughter, Martha, to Edmond Lee Toms, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Toms, Fredericktown.

Rev. Frank W. Stanton read the impressive ceremony at 7:30 p. m. in the presence of the immediate families before the fireplace beautifully decorated with white mums and snapdragons and two seven branch candelabra.

Mrs. M. B. Kubic of Mansfield played nuptial music. The bride wore a gown of pale blue silk jersey, styled with a fitted bodice, three quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. She wore matching blue ostrich plumes in her hair and carried an orchid on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Dwain Garber of Mansfield was matron of honor wearing grey with a head dress of fuchsia flowers. She carried a small bouquet in the same shade.

Robert Dwyer acted as best man. Mrs. Beckwith wore a grey crepe gown and Mrs. Toms wore a navy blue. Both mothers wore pink rose corsages.

The wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony for fifty guests. The table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake garlanded with baby mums and maiden hair fern.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a grey suit with black accessories. Mr. Toms is associated with Robert Dwyer in the grocery and meat business in Fredericktown. Mr. and Mrs. Toms will be at home to their many friends in their newly furnished apartment at 84 North Main street, Fredericktown.

ROYAL REGAL CLUB.

Eleven attended the meeting of the Royal Regal Garden club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. S. S. Little, 125 Blanche street. Mrs. Foster Stough was the associate hostess. The business was in charge of Mrs. L. K. Banks, previous to the program. Mrs Claude Phipps gave a paper entitled "Useful Hints for Plant Lovers." Mrs. Paul Ackerman spoke on "What Every Rose Grower Should Know." Valentine appointments were used for the table decorations when refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held March 7 with Mrs. Dane Valentine and Mrs. H. E. Humphrey as hostesses.

Carl C. Byers to Address Joint PTA Meeting

Carl C. Byers, superintendent of the Parma public schools, and nationally known speaker, will be the speaker at a joint meeting of the Johnny Appleseed Parent-Teachers Association and the Parent-Teachers Association council Thursday night, February 13, in the school auditorium. All local P-TA members are invited.

Mr. Byers, who is in great demand as a speaker at service clubs, fraternal groups, advertising meetings, and Parent-Teacher groups, is also a frequent contributor of articles to magazines and newspapers of national circulation. He is an authorized speaker of the state Parent-Teacher organization and, through his work in education, offers a vast fund of information about our school system and ways and means of improving it.

Not only was Mr. Byers the youngest city high school principal in Ohio, he was also the youngest Rotary club president in the state and the youngest city superintendent of schools in Ohio and one of the youngest in the United States.

In addition to Mr. Byers, the program will feature the ninth grade chorus who will offer selections under the supervision of Miss Ellena Percy.

Alice Rose Shade Weds Robert King

Mr. and Mrs. James Shade, R. D 4, announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Rose, to Robert V. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King, 403 Wayne street. The ceremony was solemnized Jan. 28 at the First Church of God, at 8 p. m. with Rev Helen Wright officiating.

Miss Glenna Jean Shade, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and William King served as best man for his brother.

Mrs. King attended Madison high school and is employed at the Barnes Manufacturing company. Mr. King attended Mansfield Senior high school. He served 30 months in the army, 25 of them overseas. He is employed by the Ohio Brass company.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.

Billy Wenning, son of Mr. and Mrs Howard Wenning, 481 Woodward avenue, celebrated his ninth birthday yesterday by entertaining his neighborhood friends at a theater party after which refreshments were served at the Wenning home.

Fete Bride-Elect At Vrbanac Home

For the pleasure of Miss Ruth Jeannette Smith, bride-elect of Joseph Ademscu, was the party and miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Miss Ruth Vrbanac, Ruth avenue. Miss Ann Bayer was the associate hostess. Eight guests were in attendance and enjoyed the diversion of bridge. Prizes were won by Miss Betty Wilson and Miss Betty Edwards.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served at a long table attractively decorated with a miniature bridal procession, with tiny candelabra lighting the wedding scene.

Miss Smith will become Mrs. Ademscu in an open church service at the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Stephen Garrett, Drama Critic To Speak Thursday

Under the auspices of the Women's Federation, Stephen Garrett, noted drama critic for New York's "Gotham Life Guide" will speak here Thursday at the Ohio Theater at 11 a. m. Reservations for the luncheon at the Women's club, following the lecture, are to be made by Tuesday.

Garrett, youngest of dramatic critics, will use as his subject, "One on the Aisle". It is stated that he possesses a fresh viewpoint on the theater, as well as an authority which belies his years.

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, in 1917, he studied the theater at the University of Iowa under Professor Edward C. Mable, one of the best and most respected authorities on the drama.

Garrett's first job was with the Baltimore Journal as a copy editor. Always interested in the theater, he had done amateur acting at school and college and he decided to combine radio acting with newspaper work. He finally devoted all of his time to radio, for besides acting and directing, he also did announcing and newscasting.

In June 1943 he joined WINS in New York and later inaugurated his "Playviews" program. His incisive radio reviews were heard every night that there was a theatrical opening on Brodway. In the fall of 1946 he devoted himself exclusively to the lecture-going public and to his duties on the magazine.

Garrett is of the opinion that the best performances in the theatre during the 1946 season were delivered by Laurette Taylor in "The Glass Menagorie" and by Laurence Oliver in the Old Vic production of "Oedipus."

SPEPPO'S MEET.

The February meeting of the Seppo Club was a Valentine kiddie party held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Harris. Business for the meeting included the election of Mrs. Dora Arras who will serve as treasurer for the remainder of the year. Club pins and emblems were selected and they will be purchased in the near future. Games were played after which refreshments were served at a table centered with a large red and white Valentine cake. The next meeting will be a potluck supper March 1, at which prospective members and special guests will be entertained.

'Trifling' Portal-To-Portal Pay Ruled Out

A SEMBLANCE of common sense is beginning to emerge from the maze of legal complications that brought on the flood of so-called "portal-to-portal" suits filed by lawyers for labor unions.

Danger in jumping to conclusions, as was apparently done by instigators of claims which followed a Supreme Court opinion last June, is evidenced by Saturday's decision by Federal Judge Picard that any compensation to which employes of the Mt. Clemens Pottery company might be entitled, while going to their jobs, was too trivial to merit court recognition.

It was for determination of this point that the Supreme Court sent the case back to Judge Picard, with instructions to compute the portal time, if any, and to assess it as "de minimis" or otherwise "in the light of the realities of the industrial world."

Much hinges on that legalistic Latin word "de minimis," which briefs the long-held court view expressed by the quotation, "De minimis non curat lex," translated as "The law takes no account of trifles."

Also important is the Supreme Court position that such matters should be considered "in the light of the realities in the industrial world," as the additional cost of portal-to-portal pay to workers had apparently never been taken into account by either industrial management or the workers themselves, prior to the obviously ambiguous court decisions which are now being pondered.

It is interesting to note that Judge Picard, in his Saturday decision, mentioned the possibility that he might be in error in determining what the Supreme Court meant last June, which excuses the difficulty that laymen—and even some lawyers—may have in arriving at a clear understanding of the situation.

Special reference was made by Judge Picard to the difference in the case of miners, some of whom are required to travel long distances from the surface to the place of their work—and it is this that served as the origin of the portal-to-portal pay theory which has been so ridiculously overdone in recent months.

The public disgust that has been felt over the deluge of portal-to-portal claims—reaching toward five billion dollars—was well expressed by Judge Picard when he said: "Never before has anyone attempted to bring walking and preliminary activities time consumed into such a narrow, picayunish, meager sphere (as in the few minutes involved in the Mt. Clemens case). Furthermore we do not believe that the Supreme Court ever intended such an interpretation."

It is just possible that some lawyers—such as Edward Lamb, of Toledo—will find remunerative opportunities in continuing the portal-to-portal phantasy, but that high-sounding "de minimis" thing may tend to dampen the ardor of those who grasp its meaning.

Pilots Offer Safety Suggestions

THE AIRLINE pilots are putting in their word about the increasing number of air crashes. They are doing it in the form of testimony before the senate interstate and foreign commerce committee.

One of their spokesmen, David L. Behnecke, president of the Airline Pilots association (AFL), says there is too much star-gazing and electronic day-dreaming." The pilots seem less interested in radar than in good lighting on landing fields. They want the agency which probes air crashes separated from the agency which maps government aeronautics regulations.

The pilots want better testing of aircraft before the planes are put into commercial use. They want more precautions against fire in flight.

It would be well to listen attentively to the men who fly the planes. They see the problem at close-hand.

Commercial aviation is here to stay. But it will grow only in proportion to the development of public confidence in air safety.

Mixes Temperament With Talent

MUSICALLY-MINDED Mansfielders have been following with some interest the career of Artur Rodzinski, newly appointed conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Because Rodzinski spent ten years as conductor of the Cleveland symphony, bringing world renown to that organization, he seems more or less like an old neighbor.

And, following Rodzinski's doings is never a dull pastime. The Dalmatian-born musician is also a doctor of laws; he was wounded in the first World war; he was so frightened at his first opportunity to conduct that he fizzled; Leopold Stokowski "discovered" him in Warsaw and brought him to the U. S.

Going from Cleveland to New York, Rodzinski immediately got embroiled with some of his players. A week ago he had a squabble with the management and quit the New York Philharmonic. All this indicates that he is hardly a sweet and gentle soul. But he is a builder of orchestras as Clevelanders and Los Angeleans can testify.

His career in Chicago may bring new storms to the Windy City.

First American Book Highly Prized

THE highest price ever paid for a book, $151,000, has just been realized for a volume that is badly printed and of no high literary merit. This is the Bay Psalm Book, printed at Cambridge, Mass., by Stephen Daye in 1638, the first book printed in the United States.

It contains a poetical version of the Psalms, reflecting the Puritan devotion to religion and desire to spread reading matter widely. Of the 1,700 copies printed only 11 are known today. Most are owned by public institutions; hence for the buyer anxious to own the first American book, the recent sale was a case of now or never.

The purchaser was Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, a Philadelphia dealer. He held the previous record for a costly book, having once paid $106,000 for the first collected edition of Shakespeare's plays.

Guatemala has hit upon the idea of electing half its congressmen and picking the other half by lot—but why bother about the election part of it.

Chicago whisky salesmen went on strike the other day for higher commissions—staggering scale, perhaps.

Airplane crashes would probably attract less notice if nobody of prominence was involved.

Report Reveals How the Vatican Saved Italian Jews From Nazis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Now that various war secrets are being told by former Secretary of War Stimson and others, it may be appropriate to reveal the great human story of how one religious group cared for another during the war.

The story—of how the Vatican saved thousands of Jews—is told in a secret report by the War Refugee Board, an organization, largely non-Catholic, appointed by President Roosevelt to save religious minorities from Nazi death and persecution.

The report is couched in the unemotional, prosaic language of bureaucracy. But reading between the lines is one of the most human, dramatic stories of the war—how the Pope gave refuge to Italian Jews in the sanctity of the Vatican, how the Pope sent money into Hungary to help the terrorized Jews of that country, and how the Vatican worked closely with American Jewish organizations to send supplies to refugee camps inside Hitler's territory.

Here are some of the highlights of the unpublished refugee report:

"Constant communication was had with Vatican circles through Ambassador Myron Taylor and Harold Tittman, American representatives at Vatican City, and through the apostolic delegate in Washington.

"Various appeals were addressed by the Vatican to authorities in Germany and the satellite countries in an attempt to halt deportations and other forms of persecution directed against Jews and other minority groups. When the Hungarian situation became particularly acute, a personal appeal for tolerance was addressed by Pope Pius XII to Hungarian Regent Horthy. From the United States, Archbishop Francis Spellman addressed an impressive plea to the Catholics of Hungary, asking that they protect and help the persecuted.

* * *

Italian Jews Aided.

"Vatican cooperation was likewise obtained," continues the War Refugee Board, "in helping afford relief to the Jewish community in Rome throughout the German occupation, the cost of these operations having been borne by the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee.

"The Vatican was similarly helpful in transmitting and supporting the board's request for alleviation of the lot of unassimilated persons detained in enemy territory, at least to the extent of permitting them to receive relief parcels under the supervision of the International Red Cross.

"Vatican support was also lent to the board's efforts to insure protection to endangered persons in Axis territory holding Latin American papers."

The War Refugee Board also tells how the Vatican advanced money to save persecuted minorities in Hungary and established an underground to smuggle Jews in immediate danger of death out of that country.

Another instance of the invaluable assistance rendered through Vatican channels was courier service for the transmission of Palestine certificates authorized by the Jewish agency for endangered persons in enemy territory, notably the relaying of such certificates from the apostolic delegate in Istanbul to the Nunciature in Budapest to enable their emigration from Hungary.

"Throughout the course of the war substantial amounts of money were placed by the Vatican at the disposal of the bishops of Hungary for the purpose of alleviating the sufferings of persecuted minorities."

So determined was His Holiness to alleviate suffering of those whom Hitler had singled out for destruction, that he attempted to protect large numbers by alleging their conversion to Christianity.

"Perhaps the most unusual means of extending protection to endangered persons in enemy-controlled territory were the efforts of the Catholic church to save lives by means of conversion to Christianity.

Nazi attempts to oppose these measures met with the response that the church had authority to baptize immediately any person who was in imminent danger of death. When the situation in Hungary grew more critical, groups of Hungarian Nazis entered churches and broke up religious classes being held for Jews, with the result that many baptisms took place in Hungarian air-raid shelters, where hundreds were baptized.

"Conversion to Christianity did not, however, permanently exempt persons of Jewish descent from Nazi persecution. Discriminatory and deportation measures were generally extended to such converts in short order, as well as to partners of mixed marriages and individuals who had been Christians from birth and whose families had been Christian for generations."

All in all, there are thousands of non-Catholics alive today who would have died in Nazi gas chambers, had it not been for the help of the Vatican and its cooperation with the American government.

Farmer's Diary: "Home Grown Insurance."

THE insurance agent who stopped at our home was a tall slender man, middle-aged, of the thoughtful, calculating type. To get acquainted, he handed me some circulars on which were printed clearly the name of the life insurance company he represented, and a short outline of their different policies.

He asked how many children I had in common school. I told him four boys, ranging in age from 7 to 16.

He wondered what kind of life insurance I carried for them. Frankly, I told him, "I carry none."

"But you expect to, certainly?" he suggested.

"Yes," I agreed. "I do. The boys and I have talked about it often."

"Then you have chosen your company?" He appeared disappointed.

"We have a plan," I said slowly. "You might call it Nature's twenty-payment endowment, perhaps. It's very adaptable . . ."

"I wish you'd explain."

"I plan to secure a few acres—20 or 30—of farmed out marginal hill land, for each boy. I want to help him plant a forest of rapid growing seedlings—thrifty varieties that our agricultural experiment station recommends for this locality.

"On our own forest land, burned over seven years ago, one yellow poplar seed tree has produced as many as 150 seedlings, the first ones to take root are now 16 feet high. They grow a yard a year. In 20 years, profitable cutting could be done, leaving more space for the others to develop. The first crop would pay all the expense of our home made insurance policy, and more too.

"Your policy," I went on, "would benefit the boy, the insurance company, and you. Our plan will benefit vastly more folks, and will educate the boy, while he is growing. Doing something constructive like planting trees and protecting them against fire and domestic animals not only grows forest, but builds character. Beside the cash value of the lumber 20 years hence, the beauty of that forest becomes a part of the young boy's life who planted and tended it. And by scientific care, and wise forestry, it could be productive for a thousand years.

"Instead of an unsightly gullied useless piece of bad land, one small boy with sufficient encouragement can make it something of great value in beauty, in dollars, in fertility and in conservation of soil. I believe there are a million boys who would accept the challenge of such a policy, if only farmers and business men of the towns and villages would make it popular."

"Who's selling what to whom?" he wondered dazedly as he picked up his hat.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

DEMOCRATS are looking forward to the rare experience of a contest in the 1948 convention. . . . Truman's hat is in the ring and Wallace's hasn't been out of it.

* *

Republicans are trying to fix it so that from now on Democrats can have a contest at least once every eight years.

* * *

We are to vote on a constitutional amendment reading "do you agree that two terms are enough for any president? . . . Answer 'yes' or 'Democrat'."

* * *

It will mean abandonment of the "don't change horses in midstream" slogan of '36, '40 and '44. The new slogan will be "giddap. . . . we've only got eight years."

You Couldn't Feel Sorry For Shorty.

WASHINGTON — News that Shorty had died from a heart attack seemed almost unbelievable to those of us who had known him well. Had he been killed in a gunfight, a border incident, an oilfield brawl or a spectacular auto accident, no one would have been surprised — although many would have been saddened.

No one expected him to leave this life in such an ordinary manner—victim of a common human ailment. He was the sort of everlasting adventurer for whom the phrase "he'll die with his boots on" was invented.

Except for one thing. During the last half of his life, Shorty had no legs on which to wear boots.

Before he went away to the first World war, people called him by his given name—let's say it was Bill—or else they called him Duke, a nickname born of his dapper clothes and royal carriage. A gay, laughing, handsome six-footer, he was the most popular and most loved member of a large family.

The first years after the war were rugged ones for Bill, and when friends learned that both legs were off almost to his hips, they feared and dreaded the day when he'd come home again and they'd have to face him.

They might have saved themselves the worry.

He hung the new nickname on himself, shortly after he finally left the last hospital. Meeting some strangers, he found an old friend stumbling over introductions—suddenly realizing that he might not like to be called "Duke" any more.

Looking up from the floor, Bill grinned, and the mischievous imps were still in his eyes.

"Aw, just call me Shorty," he said—and the name stuck.

In the years that followed, Shorty became something of a legend throughout the southwest. Those were the big oilfield boom days, and Shorty made them all—Ranger, Smackover, Gladwater, Hobbs, Barkburnett and the rest—sometimes doing one kind of job, sometimes another.

Disdaining to let his father support him, he swiftly became an accomplished car and truck driver, almost with standard equipment.

He had a hand brake and throttle, but he used a cane that he kept in the front seat of the truck cab to push in the clutch, and he soon was a far better than average driver.

That deathless spirit that even such a handicap couldn't hurt, stayed with him through good and bad times. He didn't like artificial legs, so he built himself a special scooter. He got himself a taxi business and outran his competition. He made big money fast and lost it fast.

He gave and asked no quarter. Hunkered up on a stool drinking beer one night when a boomtown barroom brawl broke out, Shorty hopped up on the bar, reversed his bottle happily and sat there cheerfully bopping anyone who came within reach.

Inevitably, that unquenchable spirit got him into trouble, time and again, for the law was long a loose and self-enforced thing in the southwest—particularly in oil boomtowns. And the competitive devilishness within him dictated his conduct far more often than did any desire to be an ordinary placid citizen.

Non-conformist though he was, Shorty had his own creed and he kept it.

He never double-crossed a friend or betrayed a confidence. He never deliberately harmed an innocent person, and he did good turns every day as a matter of course.

And always, he had a zest for life and living that was unbelievably contagious.

Throughout his life, Shorty lived dangerously, gaily and fully. If he had a period of depression noticeable to his pals, it came when the second World war started and he couldn't get in it.

And there are plenty of people who think Shorty would have been a mighty handy man for the Allies to have had around.

Certainly he would have felt better about going out that way than from an ordinary heart attack.

Reciprocal Trade Program Threatened.

WASHINGTON — Occasionally the mechanism of our democracy resembles an automobile out of control on an icy road. The wheels, representing the government, including congress, go skidding off despite all that the driver, the people, can do.

Now, when our democracy is on test before the world, is no time for that. Yet right now there is an example of skidding which could have tragic consequences to the position of leadership that we have assumed in the world.

This is the apparent determined attempt of many Republicans in congress—though not all—to break away and destroy our reciprocal-tariff program, though the people want nothing of the kind.

The reciprocal trade program is not something philosophical and theoretical. It is a bread-and-meat-and-jobs matter. Under it, representatives of our state department sit down with representatives of other nations to negotiate for reducing tariffs and removing trade barriers. Only a healthy world can provide jobs and bread and meat, and trade is the bloodstream of a healthy world.

The election is some months behind us now, and there's not another until November, next year. But, meanwhile, the Republican party in control of congress can head us right straight back down the road to isolationism and nationalism before "we, the people," as Wendell Willkie used to put it, can do anything about it.

"We followed that road after World War I, with every nation trying to live to itself and raising tariff walls higher and higher, and result—depression and war.

The people certainly don't want that. Nobody will question that the people preponderantly are for international co-operation; and they are for it all the way, including the necessary economic and financial co-operation without which political co-operation, such as is embodied in the United Nations, is worthless.

The reciprocal-trade program, sponsored by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, has become an established and accepted policy. It has been fully discussed in the past as a major issue in numerous elections, and approved every time.

It was not an issue during the last election. This was due to a peculiar circumstance, which was that we had adopted a bi-partisan foreign policy and so foreign policy was lifted out of the campaign. That was a fine gesture, except that it took no account whatever of the facts. For many Republicans and some few Democrats up for election had voted consistently against the reciprocal trade program, had tried to wreck it, and they had not changed.

But the people were not informed of this. They took for granted, on faith, the bipartisan co-operation all the way.

Now President Truman, who did not raise his voice in the campaign on this or any other issue, has awakened to the danger to the reciprocal-trade program in congress. He pointed out in a message that bipartisan co-operation on foreign policy must include "economic reconstruction and development and the expansion of world trade and employment" as well as political co-operation.

There has been lots of talk about mandates of the recent election. But there certainly was no mandate to wreck the reciprocal-tariff program. Nor has any Republican made such a claim.

But the party, for the time being, is out of reach of the voters. The only recourse under our system is for the people to exert such pressure as they can through the avenues available during the season when the ballot box is closed.

Either that, or be betrayed.

McKellar Resorts to Character Assassination.

WASHINGTON — In the long history of the United States Senate, there have been scoundrels and fools as well as great men. There have been vainglorious egotists and chattering pygmies as well as statesmen and heroes.

But it is just possible that, in the long history of the senate, there has never been any performance so dishonorable as that of Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee in the case of David Lilienthal.

That is the unenviable record he will carry to his grave. It is another black mark in the book of American political history.

One can say, charitably, that Sen. McKellar's advanced years unfit him for his duties in the senate. But that is not enough. He is a monstrous reality that cannot so conveniently be ignored.

More than the accident of an unprincipled individual is involved here. The organization of the senate permits this individual to obstruct the whole course of government in a field vital to the life of every American. It permits this individual to make a foul joke of the processes of democracy. That is what is really ominous about the McKellar performance.

It is just as well to face up now to the un-American nature of McKellar's tactics. Failing in every way to discredit David Lilienthal, McKellar finally resorted to the meanest form of character assassination. With innuendo and insinuation, he began to pry into Lilienthal's parentage and origin.

Think what this means to an honorable and sensitive man. Think what it means to a man whose elderly and respected parents are still living. Such an attack overrides every tenet on which this country was founded. It is a denial of our greatness and our strength. It is equivalent to the degradation of Hitlerism.

We have believed in this country that, no matter what a man's parents were, he was entitled to be judged on the merits of his own behavior. His race or his creed did not disbar him. We have fallen short of that ideal, often a long way short of it. But it is an ideal that we cherish.

Consider the case of David Lilienthal. It is no reflection on him to say that President Truman offered the chairmanship of the atomic energy commission to several others before it was offered to Lilienthal. Mr. Truman perhaps foresaw this very impasse, with all its mean and damaging implications.

Lilienthal said he would accept the position. He has devoted his life to public service instead of to sharpening the acquisitive instinct for private gain. A man of great capacity, he could undoubtedly have made a personal fortune as a corporation lawyer. But he chose public service.

One of the sad commentaries on all this is the fact thta McKellar represents the state of Tennessee. Tennessee has contributed many great men in the past.

Tennessee's delegation in congress today is well above the average if one excludes McKellar. It is largely composed of men of capacity and integrity. But the stain of McKellar, and behind him "Boss" Crump of Memphis, spreads a long way.

For these two, for McKellar and the boss who created and sustained him, there is a dark niche in the golden cathedral of American history. And for all Americans there is a question as to how this can happen under our system of government.

Guarding Health of Elderly People.

THERE are many reasons why the health of elderly people needs special safeguards.

In the first place the body's own defenses against infection are slowed down. Somehow or other as we grow old, the blood is slower in forming the special disease fighters called antibodies. The lymphoid tissue, whose job is to filter out harmful germs, becomes less efficient.

Circulation is poorer and resistance of the body to disease is further lowered by hardened arteries, heart disease, poor nutrition and lung disorders.

Infections Take Hold.

Thus, it is not only easier for an infection in the body to take hold of elderly people but its course is likely to be rapid because of lowered resistance.

Then, too, it is often difficult to diagnose infection in the aged, and one of the things that the doctor is always concerned about is that even advanced infections such as pneumonia or peritonitis may be present without causing the usual symptoms.

There may be no fever at all or only a slight one and no chills. Appendicitis may occur without causing a rise in pulse rate, temperature, white cell count and the usual spasm of the stomach muscles may be absent.

Avoiding Infections.

Because of these things, it is important that aged persons be kept away, as much as possible, from those persons who have infections of the nose and throat. This is because a serious infection may rapidly arise in the elderly as a result of a common cold contracted from some careless person. Also special care must be taken in guarding the older person who has diabetes. The condition may be made much worse by an infection, a fall or mental shock.

Infection often follows accidents in the aged. Thus, loose rugs, polished floors and shaky bedside tables are hazardous. It may even be important to supply the bed with side rails, especially at night.

In combatting infections, everything possible must be done to keep up the patient's nutrition and he should have frequent check-ups made by his physician.

BRITISH SHUT DOWN POWER, CLOSE PLANTS

Nation's Coal Supply Nearly Exhausted After Severest Winter of Century.

LONDON —(UNS)— The British government threw the switch today which cut electrical power in factories, shops and homes throughout half the nation.

The drastic government measure, taken to preserve nearly exhausted coal supplies in the severest winter of the century, went into effect at midnight and revived conditions of civilian hardship unexperienced since the German blitz created chaos on the island.

The switch-off of electric current in all but essential industries in England and Wales threw millions into enforced idleness and plunged Britons into five hours a day of virtually complete cold and darkness.

The first total power cut during the crisis was slated from 9 a. m. to noon. A second switch-off will occur from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. each day.

Cabinet Called.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee was expected to make a statement on the serious necessity of the action in the house of commons today. A full cabinet meeting was called to hear latest reports on the situation.

Attlee may broadcast an appeal for cooperation of his countrymen during the crisis. While stringent penalties were reported prepared for non-compliance, electrical engineers asserted it impossible to cut off household consumers without interfering with essential services.

Britain's workingmen and householders who swept the labor government into control displayed resentment at what they grumble is government bungling.

Catch phrases coined by the Conservative party were being heard frequently repeated by the man on the street. Among them were slogans such as "Starve with Strachey" and "Shiver with Shinwell."

For the average Englishman, the drastic measure meant he began his day by packing sandwiches and thermos bottles of tea in the likelihood no warm food will be available in restaurants.

The British housewife rose early in order to have a few hasty hours in which to do regular chores before the first power shutoff. Meals for the day were prepared last night. Children's food was being cooked at improvised kerosene stoves, coal fires or backyard braziers.

English office girls were permitted to wear slacks for the duration of the crisis. Office staffs in many instances gathered in one room to share the warmth.

BUNDLE TURNS OUT TO BE MAN'S BODY

SALINAS, Calif. —(AP)— Police Lt. Marvin Roberts stopped Mrs. Mabel Schisler Saturday to tell her a bundle was dragging from the rear of her automobile.

They investigated and found Lee Caley, 45, Salinas, who had been dragged 6½ miles. The car had passed over his body but a U-bolt had caught his knee and clothing. Alive when found, Caley died enroute to a hospital.

Roberts said Mrs. Schisler, of Sacramento, Calif., told them she had not seen Caley lying on the highway in the early morning darkness. Earlier, motorists reported they had to swerve to avoid a man lying on the highway. A sheriff's car was en route to the scene when Caley was scooped up.

A HIGH original suit bid, of three or more, or a pre-emptive jump after your partner bid—such as 3-Spades over an 1-Diamond or 4-Clubs over 1-Spade—is made by the best players only when their hand is utterly worthless in any declaration except the long suit named. Their purpose is to shut out presumably stronger opponents, since their own hand is of no use on the defense. But you will almost never see them make such a bid when their suit is solid in top honors. Their reason is that such a hand can be extremely useful in a No Trump declaration, and the high jump may crowd their side out of reaching the best spot. In other words, a solid suit has versatile value.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1. 1 ♣	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
6 NT	Pass	7 ♠
2. 1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
6 NT

Under the first sequence is the bidding actually done on this rubber bridge deal. North, an average player, advertised that his hand was practically worthless except at spades by making a bid of "two more than necessary" to overcall the 1-Club. When South then bid his diamonds, North felt strong momentarily and, fearing only hearts, thought it he could probably take eleven tricks with spades as trumps. So he bid 5-Spades. It was his idea that South with a singleton heart, the K-Q or the A, might take one him to 6-Spades. When South bid 6-No Trumps, however, North got panicky. Still considering his hand valueless except with spades as trumps, he went 7-Spades, which got set two tricks by a lead through the heart K.

A kibitzer recommended North bidding his hand on an entirely different principle—considering it very valuable instead of very weak, as in the second sequence, hoping South could bid 6 No Trumps somewhere along the line. Maybe the 5-Spade bid was a bit strong, but even with 4-Spades there the pair should reach these unbeatable 6-No Trumps.

THANK GOD FOR MUSCLE-RUB!

WRITES MR. ROBERT JORDAN, JR., COLON, MICH.

Advises every sufferer from Rheumatic—Arthritic—Sciatic—Neuritic Pains to try Muscle-Rub.

Here's the true story of a man who took treatments, used all kinds of remedies for his sciatic, neuritic pains without not being helped in the slightest degree. Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his hip—knee—calf of legs. The pains at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down. He tried several different treatments, many different medicines, all of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription—and in desperation bought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

No wonder he advises every rheumatic sufferer to try Muscle-Rub for fast pain relief

Family With Bedfast Son Seeking House by Feb. 27

By MARGUERITE MILLER

This is a story of a Mansfield family with a bedfast son and three other children who must have a house by Feb. 27. It is also a story of a landlord who's in the "middle" himself, and who is willing to give them a public recommendation as "good tenants."

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hymes have lived at their 165 Buckingham street residence for six years. Six months ago, Luther LeeMasters, 196 West Third street, bought the house. A few days ago, the Hymes's 13-year-old son came back from General hospital where he was under treatment for rheumatic fever. The child, according to the family physician, must remain in bed for another month or six weeks.

"We've been to every town around Mansfield trying to find a place," Mrs. Hymes said. "But, the rentals are either not large enough for our family or all available places are for sale. We can't afford to buy now because hospital bills have taken too much from our reserve. Our son, now bedfast, underwent an appendectomy last year."

"I want to help them everyway I can," said LeeMasters. "I'll recommend them highly. They've always been prompt with their rent and they take care of a house.

"But," added LeeMasters, "I'd like to move in the house because I'm paying $60 a month for five rooms where I am, and they're paying $20. I can't afford the rent I pay."

Mrs. Hymes's father, Elza Stone, was buried a week ago today. Her mother is residing with friends. The two married Hymes children are living in two and three-room apartments.

So about all the Hymes family has to go on is their landlord's recommendation, and they're hoping it brings them some much-needed luck!

Headless Rooster Dies 39 Days Late

ASHTABULA — (AP) — "Jim," Ashtabula's famed headless rooster, finally died—39 days after he was to have been dressed and cooked for a New Year's day dinner.

John Marrison apparently failed to sever a vital nerve when he chopped off the rooster's head, and the bird spent New Year's day strutting around the chicken pen. Marrison kept it alive by forcing corn down its gullet. He plans to have "Jim" mounted.

FORGOTTEN WONDERS

The wonders that today you face
Tomorrow will be commonplace.
—Old Mother Nature.

The most wonderful thing that ever happened to Spike, young son of Lightfoot the Deer, was the growing of two small antlers, two straight horny spikes, on his head during his second summer. He thought them the most wonderful things in all the Great World until he saw his father's crown. Of course that was more wonderful.

Now both had lost their antlers. At first it had been a dreadful blow to Spike, but it wasn't any longer. This was because he had discovered that his father, Lightfoot, handsomest Deer in all the Green Forest, didn't seem at all upset by the loss of his wonderful antlers. In the most matter of fact manner his father had said that next fall he would have a new crown just as good as, and perhaps better than, the old one, and that Spike would have a new set that certainly would be bigger than the old ones, having two points instead of one.

They would grow during the next summer Lightfoot had told him. Spike hurried to join his mother and the fawns and sister, Daintyfoot. The latter butted him with her head. Now that he no longer had sharp points on his head with which to butt her she was trying to get even with him.

"You wait until I get my new ones. Then I'll show you who is boss," boasted Spike.

"Where do you think you are going to get new ones?" asked Daintyfoot scornfully.

"They'll grow," replied her brother in the most matter of fact tone.

Daintyfoot tossed her head. "Do you believe that? she asked

"He is right," said Mrs. Lightfoot quietly as she chewed her cud.

Daintyfoot stared at her mother in unbelief. "Do you really mean that?" she asked.

Mrs. Lightfoot nodded. "About this time every year since I have known him, your father has dropped his antlers. I am always glad to see them go for he is easier to get along with then. Through the summer he grows a new set. I am always glad of that too, for he keeps off by himself at just the time I have babies to look after and can't be bothered by him. Then in the fall when his new crown is fully grown and he has polished all the points he is so handsome I love to watch him. He is ready to fight any one on my account. It is a grand feeling to know that some one is ready to fight for you."

PRICE CUTS HIT FRENCH INFLATION

PARIS — (AP) — France's war against inflation went into its second stage this week when Premier Paul Ramadier announced in a broadcast to the nation a second 5 per cent cut in all prices and fees, effective "during the course of the coming week."

The first such price cut was decreed by the government during the administration of Interim Premier Leon Blum little more than a month ago.

EBEN HOLDEN says—

"Give a person a new pen or pencil to try out for writing qualities. Invariably they will write their own name. All of us seem to be endowed with natural pride when it comes to the chosen words bestowed upon us which we call our 'name.' When we think of a name, we think of a person. When we carve a name in granite, we continue the influence of that person for many generations."

Bill's Carrying Papers to Pay For His College Education

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Every week 13-year-old Bill Briggs carries the News-Journal to his customers on Route 21, he's building up his savings account toward the $1,000 mark and getting a little nearer the college education he wants.

Bill, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Briggs, 619 Wooster road, is one of the six featured N-J carriers of the week.

His two and a half years of service on the route has netted Bill $500 in savings bonds and $150 in postal savings. After eighth grade classes at East Mansfield school, Bill can be found with Troop 20 of the Boy Scouts or playing ping-pong at the "Y." He also collects old coins, shoots target with the "Y" rifle club and plays softball and basketball at school.

* * *

ANOTHER THRIFTY fellow is Bill Brown, 14, who delivers on Route 23. Also a veteran carrier of two and a half years experience, Bill has saved $275.

His hobbies include collecting match folders (he's got more than 5,000), basketball, and golf during the summer at Coolridge Country club where Bill caddies. He is enrolled in the eighth grade at Lincoln Heights school where his favorite study is history. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Brown, 535 Dias drive, Bill is looking forward to college.

Paul Gottfried, 13, has saved $140 in three years as a newsboy. He carries Route 20 to Ridge, Walker and Wooster roads. History is his favorite subject at Lincoln Heights school where he is in the eighth grade. Paul's hobbies are fishing and skating.

Douglas and Carl Theaker team up on Route 138 which takes in Vernon and McElroy roads. As Carl, 15, put it, he worked during the summer, so Douglas, 11, took over the route. Now, Carl helps Douglas.

* * *

DOUGLAS FOLLOWS the save-until-you-see-something-you want plan. With his savings he's bought a bike, his clothes and a B-B gun. History is his favorite, too. He's in the fifth grade at East Mansfield school. His hobbies include stamp collecting, football and basketball.

Some day, Carl wants to study civil engineering, but the varsity football squad at Madison is the present goal. A sophomore, Carl regards world history as his favorite study and skating as his hobby. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Theaker, Mansfield, R. D. 4.

Charles Trease, 12, hasn't had much of a chance to get acquainted with Route 21 as yet. He's been a helper on the route for the past six months. His hobbies are basketball, baseball, and ping-pong, and math is the top-notch study for the sixth grader at East Mansfield school. Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Trease, Mansfield, R. D. 4.

THE EVOLUTION OF ONE PAGE in the News-Journal is explained to these newsboys by P. M. Wragg, N-J composing room foreman, as he shows them a page form. From this form a page mat is rolled. The mat is made of special heavy paper which carries the type and picture impressions of the page. The mat is baked hard to make it retain the impressions and then a semi-circular lead casting is made from it. The castings go on the press to print the paper. The little fellow in the foreground is Douglas Theaker. Behind him, left to right, are Charles Trease, Carl Theaker, Bill Brown, Paul Gottfried and Bill Briggs.—(News-Journal staff photo)

B. G. Teaches 'How to Date'

BOWLING GREEN — (INS) — A course in dating—with full college credits — has been inaugurated here for 30 freshmen men and women at Bowling Green State university.

Dr. Samuel Harmon Lowrie, chairman of the sociology department and teacher of the class, said that he believes it marks the first time any college has offered a credit course to study dating.

The sociologist explained that dating is an important factor in personality growth and that "fundamental" education is needed before dating rather than after, he said:

"Young people who do not date are under a strain which at times leads to abnormality.

"In discussing marriage before adult groups, I have become aware of an almost unanimous desire for an intelligent approach to help young people in dating.

"Social mingling permits them to judge and choose among themselves. They should realize that love is not the only thing involved in the selection of a life partner. Marriage for most persons is the most important decision of their lives, yet they know little about it."
